Lodge Promptly Hits Back At Some Of Soviet Premier's Statements

X15 TAKES OFF ON ITS OWN

The X15 rocket plane (bottom), with test pilot Scott Crossfield at the controls, flashes through the sky under its own power after being dropped from the B52 mother plane at an altitude of 38,000 feet near Edwards Air Force Base in California. It was the first powered flight for the experimental craft which soared to 50,000 feet. The plane will some day send an American pilot 100 miles out in space.

By Douglas B. Cornell

New York (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev told a gathering of American business men Thursday night that U.S. restrictions on trade with Russia have backfired and in some instances even helped the Soviet Union.

The Soviet leader also said that production in his homeland is expanding so enormously that Russia can overtake this country in economic development "more quickly than envisaged in our plans."

Khrushchev spoke to the Economic Club of New York at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. His prepared address climaxed a day in the great metropolis which produced probably the frostiest welcome New York City ever has given a top public figure.

Skimpy Turnout

For a city of 8 million people, the turnout of 175,000—a police estimate—was pretty unimposing. And the crowds which did show up were largely silent. There were no more flags on display than rigid protocol demanded.

And the traditional ticker tape reception with which the city has greeted some dignitaries with seeming delirium was lacking completely.

At Thursday night's dinner, Henry Cabot Lodge hit back at some of the statements that have been made by Khrushchev and other Red leaders.

He challenged Khrushchev's remarks to the effect that there was no difference between the abuses of early capitalism and the present-day system existing in non-Communist countries.

Highest In World

Lodge said the United States today has a system of economic humanism, and it exists for the benefit of rank and file citizens and has given them the highest standard of living in the world.

While Khrushchev was attending the dinner, his wife, Nina, was off to the theater to see "The Music Man," one of Broadway's top musicals.

Earlier, son Sergei and 4 Russian companions took a spin over New York in a banana-type Army helicopter.

Harriman's Guest

And Khrushchev, himself, had gone to a reception in his honor given by Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow and more recently governor of New York.

The Harriman reception followed a luncheon, at which Khrushchev also got off a speech. This earlier address, at a civic affair, again bore down on his call for eternal peace. The premier didn't neglect to stress the peace theme again Thursday night.

But mainly the talk was beamed toward his businessmen audience.

He hammered hard at U.S. trade policies, as he has done before, and called for better trade relations between his own country and the United States.

Nikita Flares

New York (AP) — Russia's Premier Khrushchev flared angrily Thursday night at hecklers and threatened to leave the hall, unless they listened quietly to his answer to a question.

The Soviet leader calmed down afterward but not until he had heatedly shouted:

"Surely you must show enough hospitality not to interrupt."

"If there is no desire to listen to me, I can go."

Mayor's Council Studies Possible Housing Action

Decision Taken After Factual Report On Minority Lodgings Presented

By Virgil Falloon

The Mayor's Council on Human Relations may make some recommendations on the minority housing report "within the next several weeks" to Mayor Pat Boyles and the City Council.

After receiving the 44-page report Thursday afternoon, the Council on Human Relations voted authorization for its minority housing committee to formulate possible recommendations on the housing survey.

This action batted down a proposal by Chairman Charles Stuart that the report be presented "without recommendation or comment" to the City Council.

"It's not our position to make any recommendation," Stuart said. "It's not our responsibility to carry the ball."

Dr. White Motion

But the Council unanimously supported Dr. C. Vin White's motion that a subcommittee formulate possible recommendations for consideration by the full membership and presentation to the City Council.

Backing the motion, Dr. Leroy T. Laase said that Council members "would be derelict in their duty if they made no attempt to make any recommendations on this report."

Members of the housing subcommittee probably would require several meetings over the next two weeks before its report can be made to the full Council.

He said the meetings contemplated at least one informal discussion with staff personnel involved in the housing survey.

'Fact Finding'

The report, itself, makes no recommendations, but was presented by the professional staff "only as a fact-finding report."

Report copies are to be presented to the City Council at its regular meeting next Monday by Chairman Stuart.

It is also believed that Stuart may submit his resignation at that time, having earlier disclosed intent to quit after the housing report was completed.

(Stuart is also a member of the Lincoln Airport Authority and its vice chairman.)

Asked about his possible resignation, Stuart told The Star that "I'm going to think about it over the weekend" since the subcommittee is going to work on recommendations.

'Report Conservative'

Dr. Alan L. Bates, one of the survey committee members, told the Council that the housing report was conservative in its findings and estimates.

"The significance of these non-white figures would be increased if they could be compared with white figures," he said.

Cone-Shaped Moon Is Blasted Into Orbit

. . . To Measure Earth's Magnetic Field

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A Vanguard rocket rammed a 100-pound satellite into orbit around the earth early Friday. The satellite is shaped like an ice cream cone.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials in Washington said 20 minutes after the launching that all 3 stages of the rocket had fired successfully.

Only two of the other 10 Vanguards fired in the past 21 months have succeeded in putting satellites into orbit.

The main goal of Friday's satellite was to measure the earth's magnetic field and locate pockets of dangerous radiation. Its findings could help map the safest route for man to follow on his future journey into space.

Big Swing

If successful, the satellite will attain an orbit that would take it as far out as 2,300 miles and as close to the earth as 300 miles. This is very similar to the orbit of Vanguards I and II.

The slim 72-foot rocket left the launching pad at 12:30 a.m. EST and knifed up into the sky, losing itself quickly among the stars.

A bright flash after 140 seconds indicated first stage burnout.

The satellite included a 50-pound payload and a 50-pound 3rd stage rocket, which was to remain attached.

In addition to measuring the earth's magnetic field, instruments were to study micrometeorite bombardments, solar X-rays and temperatures inside and outside the satellite.

Made of magnesium and shaped like an ice cream cone. It consists of a 20-inch sphere with a 26-inch tube extending from it. The tube is tapered from 6 to 2½ inches in diameter.

The tip of the tube contains a magnetometer to measure the magnetic field and determine the pockets of high radiation. This and later experiments may provide man with information for plotting the safest course to the moon and other planets.

Car, Truck Hit; 2 Die

Lincoln Star Special

Loup City, Neb.—Two Iowa youths died in a head-on collision 2.5 miles east of Litchfield about 2 p.m. Thursday afternoon.

The pair were identified as LaMoyne Harold Swanson and LeRoy Francis Ripperger, both 18, of Afton, Ia. Their car apparently swerved directly into the path of an oil transport driven by Delbert T. Greeley, 28, of North Platte, Neb.

Greeley was taken to a Broken Bow hospital where he was treated and released.

The Iowa car, eastbound and driven by Swanson, was pinned to the front of the truck and pushed 264 ft. down the road and into the ditch. A large wrecker from Grand Island had to be called to free the bodies when local equipment proved too small.

Sherman County Sheriff Earl Hancock said both youths were killed instantly. The deaths were the 234th and 235th in Nebraska traffic this year, compared to 225 at this time last year.

11:30 a.m. Leaves Hyde Park for New York.

3 p.m. Arrives United Nations headquarters to address a meeting of the general assembly.

5 p.m. Meets Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York at the Waldorf.

Real Estate Men Urged To 'Return To Incentive'

By Don Walton

America must return incentive to its citizens if it is to survive the cold war struggle with Communist Russia, James M. Udall of Los Angeles, Calif., president of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, said Thursday night.

Udall delivered the featured address at the first day of the Nebraska Real Estate Association's 42nd annual convention in Lincoln.

Jerry A. Brown of Norfolk was named "realtor of the year" at the evening banquet.

Udall told his audience the U.S. is rapidly moving to "socialism by default." In the process, he said, Americans are losing their freedom of choice.

For instance, he noted, labor unions have taken the freedom of choice away from American workers and their employers.

Russian Quoted

Further, Udall reported, Deputy Soviet Premier Anastas Mikoyan told Vice President Nixon that the major reason why the Reds believe they will bury capitalism is that "you have taken away incentive, while we have added it."

Udall listed union restrictions, unemployment insurance, old age pensions and restrictive taxes as means by which incentive is being "destroyed."

Udall also scored major federal aid programs, including those affecting farmers, highways, airport construction, school construction and aid to the aged.

"We should provide these things for ourselves," the Californian said. "We should stop asking Washington to do it for us."

Udall is president of 65,000 realtors across the nation.

Major Space Milestone Passes:

X15 Rocket Ship Zooms Skyward

FIRST FLIGHT UNDER OWN POWER

Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. (AP) — The X15 rocket plane passed a major milestone Thursday on its way to the edge of space. It performed beautifully on its first powered flight.

The black stub-winged dart, with ace test pilot Scott Crossfield in its cramped cockpit, soared and circled spectacularly over the Mojave Desert then glided to a perfect landing on a dry lake bed.

Crossfield called it "a very successful flight . . . it performed better than expected."

Jubilant officials of North American Aviation, the X15's makers, said Thursday's and future flights are pioneering a technique that could be used to shutle men between the earth and satellite space station.

The X15, equipped with more powerful engines, is expected later this year to rocket more than 100 miles high at faster than 4,000 m.p.h. Such performance would enable it to reach space stations.

The X15 was carried to 38,000 feet by a B52 mother ship. Cut loose it dropped 3,000 feet before Crossfield fired the first of its twin rocket engines. The engines caught and it soared like a bullet to 50,000 feet, passing the B52 and 3 jet fighter chase planes like they were standing still. It trailed great puffs of white smoke as Crossfield jockeyed the throttle.

He eased it into a wide circle to the left, lining the clear blue sky with twin contrails. Completing the circle, which had a 100 mile perimeter, he leveled off and, his 3-minute fuel supply exhausted, dropped quickly down for a perfect 200 m.p.h. landing on the bed of Rogers Dry Lake. The X15 skidded a mile, kicking up a huge rooster tail of dust.

Crossfield said he flew well in excess of Mach 2—1,400 m.p.h. — but declined to give his top speed. The X15's present engines, with 12,000 pounds of thrust, are capable of pushing it 2,000 m.p.h. Its engines for all-out flight develop over 50,000 pounds thrust.

Study Of Penal System Looms

. . . Council Committee Starts Gathering Facts

Should a separate group of state officials be set up to sentence convicts after their trails instead of leting the trails instead of letting the

Should all convicts be sent to a reception center which would decide in what institution they should serve their sentences?

Should a new authority be set up to administer the state prison and other penal institutions, taking them out from under the Board of Control?

These are some of the questions before the Legislative Council committee on the study of the penal and correctional system and parole system.

The 5-member committee met Thursday to place the chairman, Sen. David Tews of Norfolk, in charge of gathering information, arranging hearings and fact-finding sessions.

Other members are Sens. Edwin T. McHugh of Murdock, vice chairman; Harry Pizer of North Platte, Joe Vosoba of Wilber and A. A. Fenske of Sunol.

First Hearing

The committee is expected to call its first hearing shortly after the first of the year.

The group is acting under authority of a resolution passed in the 1959 Legislature calling for a study to include the following specific points:

Should the controlling authority for penal and correctional institutions be a director of penal institutions, and if so should he be under the governor or under a board of social welfare?

What institutions should be placed under such a department?

How about a reception center for all convicts for initial classification and determination of the institution in which the sentence should be served?

Should the penal code be revised to provide a specific indeterminate sentence for all individuals convicted, such as the automatic application of the minimum and maximum sentence now provided by law in order to provide time to evaluate and rehabilitate each individual?

How should the institutions and the paroling authority be related in order to insure the highest degree of coordination?

Revise Laws?

Should laws be revised to weed out those no longer pertinent to the penal and correctional programs of institutions?

Should the constitution be changed to alter the manner of picking the state parole board, and the powers of such a board?

How can the probation system be improved.

The resolution was introduced by Sen. Tews.

Communism Won't Bury Capitalism--Ike

Khrushchev Apparently Wants To End Cold War

. . . President Tells News Conference

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower said Thursday Nikita S. Khrushchev has spoken and acted here like a man who truly is seeking an agreement to end the conflict between East and West.

But Eisenhower told his news conference he is sure Americans will not be psychologically disarmed by the Russian premier's argument that Communism is a forward step in the march of world progress — that it will bury capitalism.

"When you are talking about Communism versus freedom, you are talking . . . down at the very depths of conviction in the hearts of free men," Eisenhower said earnestly.

"I do not believe that master debaters or great appearances of sincerity or anything else are going to fool the American people long."

Most of the news conference sounded like a reply to Khrushchev's Washington speech Wednesday, because that's the way the newsmen's questions came.

Third War Stupid

But Eisenhower assured the crowded room he feels certain the Soviet leader agrees with him a third great war would be stupid and crazy.

"I believe that is the one thing that he does agree with us very fully," the President said.

But while men can agree on the obvious "futility of committing mutual suicide," he went on, "there is still room for a lot of misunderstanding, a lot of miscalculation which could be very serious."

And the President replied cautiously when, at the outset of the question-and-answer volleying, he was asked whether he saw any concrete evidence of a change in position by the bald and bouncy premier on cold war issues.

Very Preliminary

Khrushchev's attitude has been extremely friendly, Eisenhower parried, but the talks so far have been very preliminary. It would be unwise and undesirable, he added, to talk of progress or the lack of it until after he and Khrushchev wind up their intensive conversations at Camp David, Md., Sept. 25-27.

"I repeat that so far as manner and deportment are concerned," Eisenhower said, "his whole attitude is one of seeking some kind of a position that should be, could be, agreed."

Both press and President were so preoccupied with the cold war theme that other problems were given scant treatment in the 30-minute session. But these 3 other major matters did come up:

1. Eisenhower virtually killed the idea of a special session of Congress to remove the 4¼% interest ceiling on government bonds. He had hinted last month he might call congress back this fall.

The "flat refusal of congress" to do that job, he said, "is one of the most serious things that has happened to the United States in my time." It enhances the threat of inflation, he said.

Only A 3-Month Wait

But congress will convene again in 3 months, the President went on, and in that time perhaps "the public and the Congress itself are going to get educated so that there will be no trouble about this."

2. There is no further plan for government intervention in the 9-week strike of 500,000 steelworkers, Eisenhower hinted strongly.

The steel industry Wednesday rejected Eisenhower's conditional offer—made at the suggestion of AFL-CIO President George Meany — to name a non-government fact-finding board.

3. The President gave a virtual endorsement of French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal Wednesday for peaceful self-determination by the Algerian people, within 4 years, or whether they want independence or some form of continued association with France.

K. LIVES LIKE A CAPITALIST

New York (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev is living like an American capitalist during his stay in New York, housed in a 7-room hotel suite that rents for $150 a day.

This is 35-A in the Waldorf Astoria Towers, better known as the "Presidential Suite."

It is on the 35th floor looking south. From the window of the drawing room, Khrushchev and his family can see some towering monuments to the system he abhors—the Empire State building, the tower of Grand Central, and a profusion of skyscrapers marching across the horizon clear to the Battery and Wall Street.

In addition to the foyer, the drawing room and the dining room, there are 4 bedrooms—including one for the master—and a serving pantry.

The apartment became the "Presidential Suite" in April, 1954, when President Eisenhower first stayed there.

About that $150-a-day tab —Uncle Sam is picking it up.

Committee Votes To Study Each County Government Department

By Nancy Shirley

The County Government Committee took a step forward Thursday night in a study which could result in the streamlining of county government.

The 10-member committee voted to study each of the 10 departments of county government to see where modernization is needed.

At 5 coming meetings of the Committee, heads of 2 county departments will "present their cases," or, in the words of Committee member Flavel Wright, "help us find out what their problems are."

The 10 departments to be studied are those headed by the county clerk, treasurer, assessor, register of deeds, superintendent of schools, judge, sheriff, attorney, engineer and clerk of district court.

Commissioners Present

Meeting with the Committee at the evening meeting were County Commissioners Rollin Bailey and Ralph Harlan. The Committee was formed early this summer at the suggestion of Bailey, who is chairman of the County Board.

"We will never reach a Utopia in government for all people," Bailey said, "and our county government has no big problems now."

"But we operate on a piecemeal basis. We don't think about a problem until it comes along," he explained in justifying a study of county operations.

"The county government is deserving of a study, mostly to provide better public service," Bailey continued.

Items Urged

James H. Kerrey, chairman of the Committee, proposed that several items should be included in the study. They are:

—Should county officials be appointed or elected? Under the present set-up, there are 13 county officials elected (including commissioners), and 10 appointed.

—Should the number of taxing groups in the county be reduced by consolidation?

—Should the number of county commissioners be increased from 3 to 5?

—Are the laws under which the county operates up-to-date, or are they obsolete.

—What services are performed by the county? Are these services effective and necessary?

—Should the county commissioners be given the power to spend money for the construction of facilities such as the proposed county convalescent hospital? The proposed hospital will be placed on the May 10 ballot, Bailey noted.

Relief Discussed

Receiving a lion's share of the discussion at the meeting were two problems: whether to increase the number of commissioners, and whether county services, especially relief, were doing a good job.

"Relief in Lancaster County is a major job," Bailey said. He told the group that, during the month of August, there were 1,118 persons on the county relief roles. This figure includes both employable and non-employable persons, Bailey noted.

On the question of increasing the number of commissioners to 5, Commissioners Bailey and Harlan agreed that such an increase could be beneficial, but also might cause the county board's job to be more time-consuming.

"Three men can handle the job," Bailey said, "but can three contribute the cross-current of thought that 5 men could?"

'Not Much Politics'

Asked if, under a 5-commissioner plan, politics might be a factor in county government, Bailey replied that "politics really doesn't have too much to do with the county board."

The next meeting of the Committee will be held Oct. 1, Kerrey said, with two of the 10 departments slated to appear before the Committee.

Committee members present at the meeting were Kerrey, Wright, Mrs. Shirley Kreissman, Daniel Olson of Raymond, George W. Knight, Lloyd Bevans of Waverly, Philip Johnson, and E. Glenn Callen.

Absent from the meeting were William Gold, L. H. "Zane" Fairchild and Russell Mundorf.

Catholic Schools Double Students In Last Decade

Catholic parochial schools in the Lincoln diocese have doubled their enrollment in the last decade with a total of 7,450 enrolling for the 1959-60 school year.

Pius X High School of Lincoln is the largest high school with 316 students, while St. Teresa's, with 603 pupils, has the top enrollment of elementary and junior high schools.

According to Msgr. Jerome E. Murray, diocesan superintendent, the teaching staff numbers 219, averaging one teacher to every 31 pupils.

Lincoln Firm To Continue Its Growth

Lincoln Star Special

Winnetka, Ill. — Comptometer Corp., hopes to "continue the growth" of Lincoln's Nebraska Salesbook Co., and "set a pattern for expansion," Comptometer Vice President James J. Clerkin Jr., said Thursday night.

Nebraska Salesbook and the U.S. Business Forms Co., of Lincoln, under the same general management, are being acquired by Comptometer and will be operated as divisions of the corporation.

"Firm plans have not yet been laid out," Clerkin said.

"It is our intention to grow up in the business forms industry and expand our Nebraska operation."

Acquisition of Nebraska Salesbook, Clerkin said, was "a natural" in that the business forms field is "a country cousin to the business machines field" in which Comptometer is presently operating.

The corporation, as yet, has "no specific programs" for Lincoln expansion, he added.

No immediate employment increase or expansion is in sight, H. R. Salisbury, executive vice president and general manager of Nebraska Salesbook, said in Lincoln.

The company employs more than 300 persons in Lincoln and approximately 100 in sales fields.

The transaction, part of a continuing diversification program launched by Comptometer, will involve an exchange of stock and cash and should be concluded by the end of September.

Salisbury will become general manager of Nebraska Salesbook and U. S. Business Forms divisions.

The deaths in South Korea raised the storm's 4-day toll to 87 dead, 122 missing and 124 injured.

After moving across South Korea, the storm screamed on north toward the Soviet-held island of Sakhalin.

Pusan, port city on the south tip of the Korean peninsula, was hit the hardest.

Police said 25,834 persons were homeless from floods and tidal waves. An estimated 15,739 homes were washed away, damaged or destroyed.

The missing American was not identified. The Army said he vanished in Pusan Harbor Thursday night when a boat capsized during a rescue mission.

CAPTAIN FOLGER HERE! ANNOUNCES GREAT COFFEE TREE GIVE-AWAY!

Captain Folger, the man who has been bringing Mountain-Grown Folger's Coffee to millions made a startling announcement as his ship docked today. Reporters and the general public (some of whom had been waiting as long as 48 hours on the pier) crowded around him for an explanation of the "important announcement" he was prevented from making earlier because of radio interference. Crowds were so thick it took 45 minutes before the Captain could fully explain his news.

Coffee lovers to benefit

The dynamic Captain finally managed to reveal what purports to be one of the most fantastic plans in history. He said: "Fellow Americans! We have the world's highest standard of living – 50 million television sets, 57 million automobiles, but does one of you, even one of you have a coffee tree?" A deafening chorus of "no's" rose from the vast crowd. Then Captain Folger went on to say that he was determined to correct this situation. When asked why, he said that America has made Mountain-Grown Folger's Coffee the largest-selling coffee in the vast area in which it is sold, and in appreciation, every true coffee lover deserves his own mountain-grown coffee tree. The Captain's announcement was met with wild enthusiasm. Everyone is now eager to hear further details about this remarkable plan, and they will be made public just as soon as they are available.

40% Of City's Non-Whites Dissatisfied With Housing

By Virgil Falloon

Four out of 10 Lincoln non-white citizens are "quite or very dissatisfied" with their present housing and more than half say they could afford to pay more for housing if it were available.

These and other findings were disclosed Thursday in the Minority Housing Report made for the Mayor's Council on Human Relations.

The minority housing survey, made this summer and financed by a $2,500 grant from the Lincoln Foundation, was supervised by Dr. Alan P. Bates and Dr. Edgar Z. Palmer of the University of Nebraska, Dr. E. Glenn Callen, Nebraska Wesleyan University, and Dr. R. K. Nelson of Union College.

The field staff and report compilation was headed by James McCartney.

Non-White Population Up

From the 503 interviews, representing 1,916 persons, and 1950 U.S. census data, the survey estimated Lincoln's non-white population at 2,786 or 2.1% of the city's estimated 130,000 population.

Based on the 1950 census ratio, the report estimates that about 2,417 of the non-white population are Negroes or 89% and about 315 or 11% are Indians, orientals or others.

While the report makes other detailed findings, these are listed as prominent:

—One out of 4 renters reported unsatisfactory sanitary facilities. In several cases there were none.

—Home owners are more satisfied with the amount of room space, but are more dissatisfied with the locations of their homes than the renters.

—About one out of 10 (9.5%) of the dwelling units described in the report may be "considered overcrowded" by conservative measure.

—Specific items of renter dissatisfaction were condition of basement, amount of room in dwelling, condition of windows, doors and locks, wallpaper and paint.

68% Represented

The survey estimates that about 68% of Lincoln's non-white population is represented in the interviews, or 1,916 persons out of an estimated 2,786 non-white population.

Only 8 persons refused the interviews of those contacted.

Of the interviewed non-white population, 41.2% were homeowners and 58.8% were renters. This was compared to 56.6% ownership for the city as a whole as shown by the 1950 census.

The survey showed that 92.8% of the non-white homeowners planned to remain here indefinitely or permanently as compared with 65.9% of the renters. Of all persons, 76.9% planned to remain permanently.

Discrimination Cited

Many persons cited racial discrimination as the reason why they did not make more use of real estate agents to obtain housing.

A breakdown shows that 62.7% found housing through a friend or relative, 17.7% through want ad or sign; 8.9% through real estate agent, and 2.4 through church or agency, and 8.4 other.

One of the big questions sought in the survey was whether the non-white residents are satisfied with their present housing.

The findings were that 39.9% were quite or very dissatisfied, 13.1% were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied, and 45.3% were very or quite satisfied.

Room Shortage Cited

Leading renter dissatisfactions were as to the amount of room, 73%, and condition of dwelling repair, 50%.

Condition of sanitary facilities is a serious problem for many renters. "At least six persons informed us that they had no sanitary facilities whatsoever. Many others registering dissatisfaction that as many as four families used the same facilities," the report said.

Most owners, or 44%, financed their homes through a mortgage loan. Other sources were private loan, 18%; savings, 17%, bank loan, 6.3%; FHA, 5.8% and GI, 2.9%.

Of the 429 persons registering dissatisfaction with house repairs, 47.1% have tried to get other housing.

More than 50% of the persons who looked for better housing were discouraged from renting or buying because of the color of their skin. Other reasons were rent too high, 14% and nothing suitable in the price range, 13%. Six per cent reported no difficulties encountered.

Could Afford Better

Fifty-two per cent of the persons interviewed said they could afford better housing. However only about 12% of the renters said they have tried to finance the purchase of a home.

The survey shows that nearly 72% of the non-whites interviewed live in detached, single-occupancy residences. About 85% of these residences have one family with no roomers.

Of the 503 dwelling units in the study, 48 or 9.5% were listed as overcrowded. Considered by the area, the greatest number was in the Malone Center area (19th to 23rd, R to Vine) while the area of the highest percentage (4 out of 22 units) was in Huskerville (city-owned housing area).

The non-white population is not uniformly distributed throughout the city. Of the 1,916 represented in the survey, 1,262 or 65.8% live in the area 19th to 23rd, R to Vine.

The other 5 areas of concentration are 8th to 10th, Park to Rose, 100; Huskerville, 101; Belmont, 42; 19th to 20th, G to J, 75; 22nd to 28th north to Holdrege 66, and all other areas 270.

Half Say They Could Pay For Better Housing

The income of Lincoln's non-white population and ability to pay for better housing, if it were available, was a major section of the Minority Housing Report.

More than half said they could afford to pay more for housing. Nearly half have tried to get other housing.

Of the number looking for better housing, more than 50% listed discrimination because of race as the reason for not buying or renting.

About 30% listed the reason as nothing suitable in the price or rent range.

Agencies Contacted

Real estate and loan agencies were contacted in the survey, which outlined these points:

—Of the 8 loan agencies interviewed, 3 reported few non-white inquiries during the past 3 years, 4 reported none, but one reported about 100.

—Principal reasons for failure to complete transactions were lack of ability to make large enough payments, poor credit rating, or otherwise not qualified for loan.

—Four loan agencies said they made it a policy not to make loans to "that" area. It is assumed "that" area refers to the Malone Community Center area since the majority of the non-white population lives in that section.

—Two loan agencies said they would not make loans to non-whites if they were considering buying in a "white neighborhood."

Inquiries Said Few

The 59 real estate agents contacted in the survey reported an average of 9.2 inquiries during the past 3 years.

—Their cited reasons for failure to complete transactions grouped as 62% having to do with finances and 28% having to do with dissatisfaction of non-white client with dwelling or location offered.

—Majority felt there is a definite non-white housing problem in the city. They disagree as to whether the problem is lack of finances or lack of available housing. Several say the finances are not a problem, that their white clients simply will not sell to non-whites.

—Most agents feel that the Negro housing should be expanded in the present Negro area. Some say their policy against selling to non-white is necessitated by the attitude of white home owners.

Average Rent $49

The survey showed that the non-white renter pays $49 per month on the average, with the majority ranging from $41 to $70.

Of the non-whites owning their dwellings, 37% purchased since 1950 and 67% since 1940. Many of the older buildings purchased before 1940 are in the Malone Community Center area.

Of the homeowners, 56% paid less than $5,000 and 67% live in the Malone Center area. Nearly 50% of the owners have paid off their loans or inherited their property. Of the remaining, more than half pay $60 or more.

Average income per family from all sources is $3,376 with an average of 1.2 wage-earners per family.

Major occupation categories were service workers, 32%; laborers, 16%; military, 19%, craftsmen, 7% and household workers, 6-8%.

Youth Breaks Glass; Draws Jail Sentence

A 17-year-old boy who admitted smashing the windshield of another youth's car with a chain was sentenced to 20 days in jail Thursday by Municipal Judge John Jacobson.

James E. Freauf of 913 New Hampshire pleaded guilty to a charge of destroying and damaging the property of another.

Police said Freauf and 3 other boys yelled at Richard Fushia of 1031 No. 9th as Fushia was driving near 27th and Holdrege Wednesday night. Fushia reportedly stopped and the 4 boys jumped onto the hood of his car.

He asked them to get off and 3 did but Freauf remained and struck the windshield, police said. Freauf was later arrested at his home.

Little Man, Big Shuffle

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Those attending the first annual marketing workshop in Lincoln, sponsored by the Advertising Club of Lincoln, found many things to think about in the first day's program. Among the intriguing subjects discussed was the general economic future of the country, painted fairly spectacularly by Robert G. Ives of New York City.

The Life Magazine merchandising manager saw good times in a rise in the population (customers), an increase in average family income, a bigger national product and expanding research. He added one note which should have provoked a chuckle among his audience. The future, he said, is "extraordinarily promising for those who gauge risks early and accurately." That sounds a little like saying football parlays offer a real opportunity for those who are able to pick the winning teams. True enough, but it would be a sad thing if we all rushed into the parlay game with this in mind.

Betting On Sure Thing

The New Yorker, however, was right in his favorable view of the future. The yardsticks he used to measure the future are good ones but they also raise some other questions. Particularly is this so in regard to the growth in research and development of new products.

This is the thing which is now plaguing the labor movement. It is the thing which has just led to new packing house agreements between labor and management which include huge funds established by management to take care of employes eliminated through mechanization. It is nicely called "severance" pay but it means that no man can be fired without the company's suffering a substantial financial hardship.

There is nothing in the Landrum-Griffin labor bill dealing with this subject. Severance pay had a concept at its birth which was sound and fairly equitable. It gave assurance to the working man that if he were fired without cause by an employer, he would have something to tide him over until he could find new employment. But the idea of protection against mechanization is quite another thing.

It is a very humane thing but it simply is not practical. It is the thing which has also been a problem to the nation's railroads. While the railroads invariably overstate and misinterpret employment conditions, they do have a logical objection in their passion to rid their companies of unneeded employes. They, after all, must bear the responsibility for the safety and efficiency of their operation and if they feel secure in these things by eliminating firemen, they should be permitted to do so.

But this is the problem with which the economists often fail to deal. Eventually, an expanding and changing economy will take care of its people but there can be terribly painful periods of transition. A population trained and skilled in certain technical jobs cannot shift overnight to one with emphasis on services.

The scientist who discovers the new process for making something may put a number of workers out of a job. Also, the demand for this scientist is growing as industry seeks better ways to satisfy the market demand and stimulate it to greater heights.

The Individual's Position

But these men left out of work cannot suddenly become scientists. Our universities must provide these scientists over a long period of years. The problem of the future is not just one of economic averages, but rather, one of individual adjustments. A farm implement company executive, Jack H. Thomsen of Beatrice, at this workshop pointed to a future of one-crop farms and large commercial farms. There are a lot of signs that he is right but this will mean another of the same kind of problem faced in other segments of the economy.

For one thing, this change would not solve but add to the current problem of excess production. Also, it would mean the elimination of the livelihood of many thousands of small farmers. Maybe twenty years after it all happened, things would be fine again but what do we do during these 20 years with the farmers turned out of their farms? Yes, the future of America is bright but the light has not yet reached all corners.

"Whew!"

An Improving Condition

If you are really looking for it, the brighter side of things is generally not too difficult to find. Certainly, this is the case in regard to the nursing home conditions in Nebraska. There was a time when life for the elderly offered little but misery and disappointment.

Unable to be cared for by their family, the elderly man or woman was put away in a nursing home and pretty well forgotten. They faced unhealthy conditions through lack of trained nursing personnel and facilities. They faced emotional problems through lack of companionship and the dreariness of their surroundings.

But this kind of nursing home care is rapidly becoming a part of the past. Today's nursing homes are not a human dumping ground. They have been tremendously improved in both facilities and trained personnel and efforts are constantly being made to better the situation.

Lincoln has been the site of a special workshop for the training of registered nurses in the instruction of nursing home aids. These nurses will go out into their communities and teach other graduate nurses what they have learned. The actual nursing home aids will then be trained by this battery of graduate nurses.

Nationally, one-third of all nursing homes have neither a registered or licensed practical nurse on their staff. It is difficult to see how they would be able to adequately care for the problems of the aged which they most certainly experience.

In Nebraska, 291 of the 348 nursing homes in existence are rated as capable of handling the needs of residents. This leaves only 57 unable to perform the job they are charged with. The picture is thus an encouraging one and the training workshop gives promise of even better conditions in the future.

Decision With The Aging

There are not many Americans who, upon reaching age sixty, do not find a new and growing anxiety.

Their age reminds them that somewhere in a foreseeable future their health is going to break. When it does their earning power will disappear and unless they have enough laid by they are in for the bleakest period of their lives.

This is the thought behind the recent congressional hearings conducted by Aime J. Forand, Rhode Island representative. It is expected that his hearings will culminate in a bill in the next Congress to add one fourth of one per cent to present social security assessments for the purpose of providing health insurance for those past 65.

This bill will be highly controversial because the American point of view has always held that health programs should be private and voluntary. But pass or not pass it will point out a few solid facts.

One is that health insurance after the age of 65 finds the average man in inevitably high risk with a future earning power unfavorable to carrying the heavier charges such a risk entails. Another fact is that modern science has increased the number of older people. The problem of providing medical service, therefore, is a growing one.

On the side of private and voluntary treatment of the problem the Health Insurance Association of America says that 60 per cent of the senior citizens who need and want health insurance will have it by 1960, and that 90 per cent will have it by 1970.

It would be more suitable to the American concept if private insurance meets the 90 per cent target by 1970 and the figures indicate that actuaries are dealing constructively that way. But in this quest the senior citizen in himself holds much of the answer. If he remains negative to efforts to provide for himself in the traditional way, the alternative can be only something in the line of Rep. Forand's thinking.

The Loan Formula Is What Counts

One must concede that David A. Hamil, head of the Rural Electrification Administration, has his problems.

He is working for an administration that figures the government needs a hand in REA like a hole in the head. But he is also working for a set of local REA's and rural co-operatives that would rather have a hole in the head than any current shift in the REA interest rate or any traffic with any other sort of banking than the government's.

It, therefore, took courage for him to confront the National Rural Electric Co-operative Association in St. Louis and speak for higher interest rates and the advisability of the REA's banking for themselves in the future.

Said he: "Some of you howl as though you were stranded on an alkali flat when, in fact, you are sitting on a gold mine" . . . you are "falling back on a psychology of failure when you claim you can barely get by on a 2 per cent interest rate; when you protest that you couldn't possibly operate a bank of your own."

Those words will not set well with the farmer-operated REA's who have lived hard to build a great service in a submarginal field and do not now mean to squander all of that for high interest rates and obeisance to the private money lenders. The REA's know that the man who lends the money is the man who calls the shot. They like their self-determination.

There is a little unrealism on both sides. The REA's are quite right on fighting for their future under the federal act which uniformly and beneficially sets down a calculable and dependable lending formula. It is the formula that binds them all together, defends them, and contributes to their success.

But they are wrong in holding that the 2 per cent interest rate is a hereditary right. They are to be reminded that the rate has fluctuated, and that the current 2 per cent rate is one of the lowest. It was established ten years after the REA's began and was an inducement especially designed to encourage the REA's to extend their services into nonprofitable fields. The fluctuations in the rate never did harm to the REA movement. But as much cannot be said for any arrangement that would alter the fundamental essence of the uniform loan terms. It is this latter that the REA's should fight for.

Halleck Traded With South For His Power

WASHINGTON — Shortly before Congress adjourned, Charlie Halleck, Republican of Indiana, was lying raw and naked on a rubdown table in the Burning Tree Club where Ike golfs. On the next table lay Sen. Tom Hennings, Democrat of Missouri.

"Tom, when are we going to get out of here?" asked Halleck from under a wet towel.

"I'm afraid to talk to you," drawled the senator from Missouri. "I've been reading about you being a tough, relentless, gut-fighter, the President's leader in Congress. It didn't sound like the old Charlie Halleck I used to know in the House."

"When are we going to get out of here?" repeated Halleck undaunted by Hennings' kidding.

"Well, we're all tired of each other, and the country's tired of us," replied the Missouri Democrat. "We ought to give the country a rest and come back in the winter, but you're the President's leader. You're the tough gut-fighter. Why don't you do something about adjourning congress?"

Senator Hennings was not far off. His old friend Charlie Halleck had more to do with upholding the President's hand on a long string of vetoes and running circles around good old 77-year-old Sam Rayburn than anyone else in Washington. And now that Congress has adjourned it might be well to take a brief moment from speculating over Nikita Khrushchev to figure how Charlie did it.

He did it by the simple expedient of promising 33 key Southern congressmen everything they wanted in the way of slapping down the Negro, if they in turn would slap down housing, aid-to-education, rural electrification, a moderate labor bill, and anything else Eisenhower wanted defeated.

In return, the civil rights bill was blocked for weeks in the House Judiciary Committee. Halleck had the votes to bring it out at any time. The 11 Republicans on that committee have been almost completely loyal to him. But the congressmen from the party of Abraham Lincoln threw their weight with southern congressmen to water down the bill and hold it up for months. Even GOP Congressman Arch Moore, who represents a strong Negro district in northern West Virginia, went along with Halleck though it may defeat him.

As a result, even the Loser bill to try to prevent the dynamiting of schools and places of worship got lost in committee. A Southern congressman, Carl Loser of Tennessee, introduced the anti-dynamiting bill, but failed to get northern support.

Khrushchev Faces American Press

WASHINGTON — Working politician Nikita Khrushchev and the working press have combined to give an informative close-up of the head of the Russian government.

He is ready with a joke or quip to clear the atmosphere, but he does not like a joke on himself when it touches a sore point of Soviet policy. He has an answer for every question but not always a responsive one, and he knows the uses of a filibuster in a sticky situation.

He has a sharp aim for any weakness of the opposition and a sense of the ridiculous, but he believes his own propaganda. A probing question on an important matter does not, however, draw a blank as it might with a less confident and less intelligent man.

He wants to please Americans and give them a good show, but he wishes they would shut up about Hungary. Here the brutality showed in roughened voice and an ugly choice of words. He quickly sensed the precipice, however, and drew back quickly. A few moments later he was all winsome charm.

He uses his short, squat body, short arms and square, plump hands as a theatrical prop. Nearly always he gets the desired effect. In this respect, he resembles a famous American politician of rather unusual appearance — the late Fiorello LaGuardia. This kind of acting ability comes from deep well springs of physical vitality; when combined with political acumen, it can be very exciting.

Perhaps his most informative answer came when he was asked why he was rushing to Red China immediately upon completion of his visit here. That, he said, was a "complicated" matter. He disclosed that he would head the mission but not make a speech; then he attempted to pass off the story as a mere matter of Red China's 10th anniversary celebration. The net effect was that Red China is very much on his mind and not altogether agreeably so.

The most striking omission among the questions put by reporters was their failure to press home an attack on Soviet censorship. It pervades every aspect of Soviet life, and western reporters find it irksome and frustrating to the last degree.

Significantly, it has now been lifted on the Voice of America so that Russians can hear all about the Khrushchev tour from the Americans themselves. This amounts to tacit recognition that the voice is a reliable witness.

Many correspondents felt dissatisfied because the Soviet premier was not pressed harder about the Iron Curtain countries. He was vulnerable to this attack also as he spouted, with the fluency of long practice, the Communist claims to being the true exponent of peace and democracy.

Perhaps President Lawrence of the National Press Club did not care to risk a prolonged shower of Hungary-style questions, since that one had produced so tense a moment. Lawrence had had bad luck also with his introductory joke involving Stalin and Khrushchev; the distinguished guest flashed back that it was "provocative . . . I deny such malicious rumors and lies."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Red Diligence Our Biggest Problem

WASHINGTON—"We are," said Nikita Khrushchev in answering one of the questions put to him at the National Press Club luncheon, "a pretty persistent people." And he might have added that he himself is a fanatically persistent man.

For what came out of the hour and a half at the Press Club was the power, the drive, the stubborn and implacable determination of this man who is the ruler of 200,000,000 people. In boasting so freely about Soviet achievements, Khrushchev was the spokesman and the leader of a society with a tremendous dynamism and thrust.

In displaying himself as the adversary of capitalism and a free society, Khrushchev never once hesitated. There were no evasions, no subtleties. He did not tailor his remarks for the American audience, and in his frankness he perhaps unwittingly performed a service for the American public.

His speech was a warning that if the peaceful coexistence he repeatedly called for prevails, then it must be, for the West to survive, a competitive peace of the fiercest sort. The boasts — about the moon rocket, the atomic ice breaker, the Soviet missiles — came from a leader who has no intention of letting his people rest on these laurels.

There was nothing new in what he had to say. He repeated all the familiar positions taken in his many speeches and statements and in the course of the negotiations at Geneva. Repetition, he said with characteristic frankness, is the mother of knowledge.

In his tour he intends to hammer — and hammer is the fitting word — on a peace treaty for two separate Germanys, on a free-city status for Berlin and on the other cardinal points of Soviet foreign policy. His appearance at the United Nations he promised to make into a spectacular offensive for a new Soviet disarmament plan.

In short, here is a propagandist who means to take every advantage of what he sees as a supreme opportunity.

But propaganda to one side, what should have impressed the American audience was not his obvious emotion over the past—over Hungary and Stalin (this was to have been expected)—but his emotion, his fervor over current achievements and future objectives. As he developed his familiar thesis that Communism is bound to overwhelm capitalism, he worked himself up into a passion over the educational successes of the Soviet system.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was drama of a high order when his minister of higher education, Vyacheslav P. Yelyutin, one of the official party, rose from the audience at the height of the Khrushchev peroration to supply figures on the number of engineers being graduated every year. Yelyutin put the total at 106,000 a year. Three times as many as you, said Khrushchev, his voice rising in triumph.

This was not propaganda for the sake of propaganda to an American audience. They were the words of a fanatically convinced apostle of a new world order.

Yelyutin, with a broad background in higher research in metallurgy, a doctor of science, recipient of the Stalin prize, is at 52 the new Soviet man. He has been the spearhead of the drive for scientists and engineers in Soviet Russia. What Khrushchev has done is to give these men greater opportunities than they have ever had before.

The opportunity is for personal advancement and perquisites, but it is also to advance the state. What few Americans have realized is the extent to which in the Soviet Union Khrushchev's claim that today it is not so much "my" and "mine" as "our" is true. Whatever we in the West think of the reality behind this claim, it is one of the sources of Communist power, as anyone who has been in Russia even briefly must perceive.

☆ ☆ ☆

Behind all the cliches about Marx and Lenin and the dogmas of Communism, Khrushchev was talking essentially about a society that is gearing itself to high productivity and a high technology. The fact is that many of the basic tenets of Communism are today ignored in the Soviet Union, with the incentive system often applied ruthlessly and with far more vigor than in the West. This is back of all the Soviet leader's boasts and claims.

ARTHUR EDSON

Pigs Are Fairly Undistractible

Beltsville, Md. — Nikita S. Khrushchev and America's prize cows, pigs, sheep and turkeys have sized each other up. Neither he nor they seemed impressed.

At the famed U.S. Agricultural Research Center, he looked at the cows first. Twelve Holsteins were lined up, each with tremendous production records, tremendous udders and a tremendous conviction that this was the silliest display they ever heard of.

☆ ☆ ☆

They rolled their eyes as Mr. K. and Secretary Benson walked along. One mooed regretfully. Possibly they sensed from the start that this bustling little man wouldn't be passing out many blue ribbons to capitalistic cows.

As Khrushchev was leaving the herd, he said:

"We took ordinary cows with no baronial sires, and with proper feeding we found they did no worse than those of good extraction."

This was a direct crack at the cows he had just left. They have baronial sires going back for 9 generations, and the whole point of the research center is to produce animals through better breeding.

Before either Benson or the cows could lose their tempers, Mr. K. said breeding is important but feeding is important, too.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, Mr. K. moved on. He saw the sheep, sensible creatures who on this chilly day showed up in warm wool coats.

He saw the specially developed small Beltsville turkey, and said the Russians prefer the larger kind.

But Khrushchev turned out to be pro-turkey growing, whatever the size.

"If we don't give a capitalistic turkey and a Communist turkey a passport," he said, "no one can tell the difference."

The turkeys, a nervous lot at best, squawked and muttered. When Mr. K. hefted one, it set up such a protest that he said, "I don't think the turkey likes this very much," one of the few understatements of the day.

Only the pigs took the the whole show in stride. It's true some squealed while a new ultrasonic device measured how much of the pig was fat and how much was meat.

From the moment they were put in the pen they gobbled the fresh grass with an enthusiasm that has made their name a word for gluttony the world over.

It's hard to distract a pig.

Calling The Fleet

Lincoln, Neb.

If Brooks should try for the Senate seat
Once held by Kenneth Wherry,
And Carl T. Curtis should meet defeat
At the hands of Terrible Terry—

If they have passed the "primary" grade,
And all of their chips are down,
And Brooks has called Terry a renegade,
And Terry calls Brooks a clown—

No one should intrude in their final feud,
A feud where no holds are barred;
Though timid folks ask that they be subdued
By calling the National Guard.

But we do suggest that in no joint debate
If ever the twain shall meet,
We should mobilize—ere it is too late—
Our Nebraska Naval Fleet!

Train Travel

Chicago, Ill.

I enjoyed very much reading your editorial in the September 7 issue of The Lincoln Star and wish to express our appreciation for the fine publicity you have given the railroad passenger train.

I have no doubt that there are still a considerable number of people who feel as you do about train travel and of course the character of train service we render over 11,000 miles should be sufficient evidence of our belief in the future of the passenger train.

With the automobile our competition for short hauls and the airplane the longer journeys with the continued subsidized development of the latter mode of transportation, we have a rough road ahead, but as long as we can continue to provide reasonably fast, comfortable, clean, and safe travel on convenient schedules between the major centers of population, there will be those like yourself who are willing to sacrifice speed for the aforementioned advantages.

Thank you again for your generosity.

Party Unity

Alliance, Neb.

As a Democrat who has worked on the local, state and national level for many years, I wholeheartedly welcome Frank Morrison as a Democratic candidate for governor.

It has been my pleasure to work for Frank Morrison in past campaigns and I have always found him to be a man of wisdom and integrity, a staunch Democrat who has always worked for the interest of the people, and the development of the state's resources.

I cannot understand why certain Democrats should criticize Mr. Morrison for announcing his candidacy at this time.

Democratic party officials at all levels are duty-bound to welcome all Democratic candidates who seek to file for state offices, endorsing none until after the primaries.

It behooves all Democrats, particularly those in high office, to encourage the filing of well-qualified candidates, and to refrain from unwarranted criticism.

Let's have party unity and spell it with capital letters.

OFF THE RECORD — By Ed. Reed

"Actually I work for Hollywood—My job is baby sitting so people can go to the movies."

NU Union Food Service Is Up 85%

The new Nebraska Union at the University of Nebraska, which is completing its first week of full-time service to students, has reported an increase in food service business of 85 per cent over the same period a year ago.

Martin C. Kohlligian, food service director, said the increase included a record number of persons served in one day—5,500. The previous high had been 2,500.

The new one and a half million dollar addition, financed by student fees, will be opened officially Friday at 4:30 p.m. with formal dedication ceremonies for students, faculty members and alumni.

Public tours of the building will be scheduled later in the year, according to acting director Allen H. Bennett.

Dedication Planned

The dedication program, to be held in front of the new structure at 14th and S streets, will get under way with Leo A. Daly of Omaha, building archiect, and George Cook of Lincoln, general contractor, turning the building over to the University.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin will accept on behalf of the administration and in turn will present it to the Union's board of managers with board president Mary Jean Mulvaney accepting.

Ribbon snipping honors will be done by a trio representing users of the union—Lyle Young, secretary of the University's faculty senate, Jack Nielsen, president of the student council and Alan H. Williams of Scottsbluff, national president of the University Alumni Association.

Following the ceremonies will be an open house and reception for students, faculty and alumni guests which will kick off a two-day grand opening celebration.

The new addition contains facilities including a 10-lane bowling alley, billiards and Pnig-pong rooms, soda fountain area, cafeteria and stereo and Hi-Fi record equipment.

GOP State Fund Drive Launched

Republican Finance and Budget Chairman John Cooper of Humboldt has launched a fund drive to meet the 1959 budget approved by the state central committee.

"To be victorious in November of 1960, we are fighting and organizing now," Cooper wrote party contributors.

"Our new chairman, Charley Thone, must not be handicapped in any way. He has accepted the budget as voted at Grand Island to be adequate. Let us procure it for him now."

The budget, totaling $48,360, includes $30,000 for the national committee, $14,985 for the state central committee, $2,875 for the Nebraska Young Republicans, and $500 for state teen-age Republicans.

Lancaster County's quota, based on dwelling units, population, the 1956 Republican presidential vote, and estimated individual income, is $4,570.

Douglas County holds the largest quota of $10,455.

Arthur and Polk Counties have the lowest—$29.

Akron, Ohio (UPI) — Rubber bands up to an inch and a half wide, 6 feet long and capable of being stretched to 18 feet are being used in warehouses and shipping rooms throughout the country. According to Clyde O. DeLong, an executive of the firm that makes these king-sized rubber bands, they can hold cartons together in stacks so they won't slip or tumble while being loaded.

Farm Wife's Death Is Ruled Accidental

...Sons Testify Gun Was Defective

Stockville, Neb. (AP)—A coroner's jury Thursday afternoon ruled the fatal shooting of Mrs. Carl Oberg, 46, last Sunday was accidental.

Mrs. Oberg's husband testified Mrs. Oberg was shot in the kitchen of the couple's home southeast of Stockville when a shotgun discharged accidentally.

The jury, which began hearing testimony Wednesday morning, reached a verdict just 10 minutes before Mrs. Oberg's funeral was scheduled to begin in Curtis, 13 miles away.

Oberg testified he planned to shoot a chicken and the gun went off as he was going for a shell. He said he had thought the gun was empty.

Two sons, 26-year-old Don and Vernon, a high school student, both testified the gun was defective.

County Attorney Fred Schroeder Jr., acting in his capacity as coroner, conducted the inquest.

AFL-CIO Convention Warning:

Labor Movement In 'Crucial' Time

Keynote Speaker George Meany Blast Russ Leader Khrushchev

From Press Reports

San Francisco—Labor's leaders told the opening session of the AFL-CIO national convention Thursday that the labor movement has not been in so much trouble in many years.

President George Meany in a keynote address warned it was a "crucial time" for the movement's 12,641,000 members.

Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif) predicted that attempts would be made in Congress next year to pass a national "Right to work" law, prevent teamster strikes by putting transportation unions under a public utilities law, and to bring all unions under anti-trust laws.

"Chase out of the halls of Congress everybody who worked for the Landrum-Griffin bill," he shouted.

Meany warned Americans not to be fooled by visiting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's peace talk in the face of a Communist record of deceit and aggression.

Meany devoted the major portion of his speech to a blistering indictment of Khrushchev and the Soviets, grimly reciting the Communist record from the Red invasion of Poland at the start of World War II to present aggressions in Laos, India and Tibet.

He spoke of a series of broken Soviet promises at Potsdam, Yalta and in the United Nations.

Meany, lustily cheered by the delegates, went on:

"We are peaceful by nature and have no designs of aggression on anyone else and a sincere desire to live in friendship with the world.

"Don't let us be fooled and deceive ourselves to the point where we see a contribution to peace when actually what we really should see is a further attempt to spread the doctrine of slavery in the world."

Two AFL-CIO chiefs, whose names had been included on a guest list of union officials due to hold a private dinner here Sunday with Khrushchev, made it known that they will not attend.

William Doherty, president of the National Assn. of Letter Carriers, and Joseph A. Bierne, president of the Communications Workers, bowed out. Both are AFL-CIO vice presidents.

Doherty said he never received a formal invitation and had decided "I don't deign to dine with the lunarian"—a reference to Russia's recent rocket shot to the moon.

ROCKEFELLER LIENEMANN FAVORITE

Republican gubernatorial candidate Del Lienemann said Thursday he presently favors New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for the Republican presidential nomination.

Lienemann announced that he will file as a candidate for delegate-at-large to the national convention in Chicago.

Wilbur Miller of Lincoln will serve as Lienemann's gubernatorial campaign manager. Lyle Franklin of Lincoln will act as treasurer for the state campaign, and H. A. Zethren of York as treasurer for central Nebraska.

Boy In Detention For Hitting Another

A 14-year-old Lincoln boy who allegedly struck a 13-year-old youth who had "squealed" to police about the elder boy's thefts of bicycle accessories was lodged in the detention home pending a Juvenile Court appearance, police said.

Police said the younger boy fell after being struck and suffered a head cut which required 20 stitches to close.

Man Suffers Head Injury In Accident

A Lincoln man suffered a head cut in a two-car accident shortly after midnight Thursday which involved a car driven by a deputy sheriff.

Police said Harry D. Hennigh, 28, of 4910 J, suffered a head cut which required 8 stitches to close when the car in which he was riding, which was driven by Dep. Sheriff Robert Lane of 2821 A, was in collision with a car driven by Jack D. Crook, 22, of 6735 X.

The right-angle accident occurred at 48th and Adams.

Lane told police he had his red light and siren on and was in pursuit of a car being driven by a man for whom the county has an arrest warrant.

Crook told police he entered the intersection on the green light and saw Lane's car just before the impact.

Lane said he had observed the wanted man near 48th and O and had pursued his car north from that location. He said he was driving about 40 m.p.h. at the time of the collision.

Damage to the Crook car was estimated at $1,500 and the car which Lane was driving, which he owned, received about $1,000 damage, police reported.

Neither driver was issued a traffic summons.

Liquor Group Delays License Suspension

The Nebraska Liquor Control Commission Thursday delayed the 21-day suspension of the Class C liquor license of Alex Morar, doing business as the Golden Spike Bar, in Omaha.

Morar's license had been ordered suspended Sept. 8-30 for selling wine on Sunday. The commission delayed the suspension period to Sept. 28-Oct. 20 at the licensee's request.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

Something that fascinated me when I was a boy was the china egg they put in a hen's nest down on the farm.

Grandma raised the chickens. She went out with an apronful of corn and scattered it aroound saying: "Chick, chick, chick." Then she would slip one of these counterfeit eggs in the hay nests in the barn.

It whipped the hen up to greater endeavors. She either tried to outdo the china egg. Or else she said to herself:

"Well, as long as we are this far along, we might as well start a family."

Hens in those days raised their own chicks. Scratching up bugs and generally clucking around. Rugged individuals. Free enterprise.

☆ ☆ ☆

The reason I bring this up is we all went down to the farm the other day. A couple of teen-age girls and a 4-year-old boy.

My, how things have changed down on the farm!

The hens do not live in nests any more. They live in wire apartment houses. The landlord is a clever fellow. The wire is slanted. When the hen lays an egg, the egg rolls down the gentle incline. It is picked up by a moving belt.

The belt moves the egg down and drops it in a slot in a cardboard carton labeled: "Strictly Fresh, Grade A."

The other half of the belt meanwhile is moving scientific chicken feed along the outside of the apartment house. When it is time to eat, the belt automatically dumps food in front of the hen.

The hen does not raise her own chicks. And if you gave her a china egg, it would simply roll down into the carton and surprise whoever bought that dozen eggs.

As I remember, those eggs were also used in darning stockings. But I suppose nowadays when the farmer's wife gets a run in her nylons, she just goes down and busys a new pair.

☆ ☆ ☆

The reason we went up country was to buy dinner. We drive north of San Francisco to the Napa Valley wine country and buy wine. Then we go over to the chicken country around Petaluma and buy frying chickens.

Go on a little farther and you come to the Marin French Cheese factory where you can go right down in the fragrant cellar and pick out a half pound Camembert.

You buy oysters at Tomales Bay and applejack in the apple country at Sebastopol. It is a fine day's outing and a lesson in providing for the youth.

☆ ☆ ☆

Since hens do not raise chicks any more, somebody has to do it.

A man named Clay Thompson at the Poehlmann Hatchery, Inc., does it. (Chickens are incorporated these modern days.)

He takes the eggs from the farmer. And he puts them in big warm cases. The cases turn every three hours—which turns the eggs, something the hen used to do by hand but think how much more efficient this is. For one thing, a hen has no watch and must guess when the three hours are up.

After 18 days, the eggs are taken into a hatchery cubicle. They peck their way out and you would be surprised what happens thereafter.

Naturally some chickens become fried chicken. And when I was a boy on the farm, chickens became fried chicken in a most dramatic way.

Our Uncle Hardy went out and grabbed a chicken at random. It was like trying to field a hot grounder. Chickens ran hollering in all directions: "Police! Police!"

Well, Uncle Hardy got one by the legs. And he laid that chicken on a stump. And he took an ax. And WHACK!

The chickens we got the other day were executed by Reif & Brody (also Inc.).

They simply strung those chickens upon a moving belt. Somebody slit their necks. And they went through a block of workers who turned that chicken out, plucked, cleaned, trimmed, cut in frying pieces and packed. With a little package of giblets on top.

When you think this whole industry started from just a little, old china egg, it is perfectly marvelous. Right?

McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

His candidacy marks the fourth filing for the Legislature thus far this year.

Woods Is State Real Estate Head

By Walt Switzer

F. Pace Woods, Lincoln investment counselor and former vice-president of the Nebraska Real Estate Association, was named president of the association as it opened its 42nd annual convention Thursday.

Woods will succeed N. P. Dodge of Omaha as president of the organization.

Vice Presidents elected were: William J. Burke of Lincoln; Grant L. Miller of Omaha; Jerry A. Brown of Norfolk, and Jeff H. Nitzel Jr., of Grand Island.

C. D. Kimball of Lincoln was elected treasurer of the NREA.

The Realtors also approved several constitutional changes paving the way of incorporation of the group under the name of the Nebraska Real Estate Association and naming Lincoln as the principal place for transacting business of the Association.

Highlighting the afternoon session of the convention was an enthusiastically received address by Dr. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's Church of Chicago.

The dean of Chicago churchmen, having served his church for 48 years, Dr. Bradley said, "We are facing a most important and most final time in our history."

"Interdependence among the peoples of the freeworld and America is the only way in which we are going to gain peace in this hour of distress," he said.

F. PACE WOODS

Dr. Bradley also urged the growth of interdependence among political parties and religious faiths.

Praising the realtors, the pastor, said, "you have raised something beyond materialism to a profession . . . and have contributed something more important than dollars."

"As real estate men you are contributing to the psychology of solidarity . . . and that is the battle today—to capture the minds of men," Dr. Bradley said.

Friday morning the convention will be devoted to panel discussions on "Appraisal," and "General Brokerage." Walter Behlen, president of Behlen Manufacturing Co., Columbus, will address a noon luncheon on, "Home Grown Industry."

The convention will close with a one-man seminar entitled "Salesorama — Servicing the Seller, Servicing the Buyer," presented by Cliff W. Krueger, president of Homefinders, Inc. of Northfield, Ill.

Also elected at the association's business meeting were:

Directors:

H. M. Garber, Imperial; John R. Maenner, Omaha; Vaughn E. Hazen, Fremont; and Eldeon S. Wolfe, North Platte; 1-year terms.

William A. Eyth, Beatrice; H. Lyle Guyer, Blair; Arden E. Stinger, South Sioux City; and Guy E. Thomasen, Scottsbluff; 2-year terms.

H. T. Pickett, Lincoln; Kirk P. Miller, Omaha; E. H. Weerts, Columbus; and G. James Wright, Mitchell; 3-year terms.

Junior Vice Presidents elected were: Stanley L. Portsche, Lincoln; Richard E. Deuser, Omaha; Charles N. Ahlman, Norfolk; and Virgil L. Laursen of O'Neill.

More Interstate Money Is Goal Of Conrad Trip

Administrative Assistant Robert Conrad went to Washington Thursday upon the direction of Gov. Ralph Brooks to attempt to get more money to continue Interstate Highway construction in Nebraska.

"I don't want to raise false hopes," Brooks said. "It may be a hopeless effort, but it's worh trying.'

Nebraska is attempting to shake loose the unspent $47 million already allocated to the state.

Brooks said he had informed State Engineer Roy Cochran that he was sending Conrad to Washington.

Cochran has said limitations by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads may cut spending in Nebraska to $10.8 million in fiscal 1960.

Conrad will also confer with National Safety Council officials on traffic safety problems, the governor said.

Muny Group Studies Insurance

The executive committee of the League of Nebraska Municipalities Thursday considered a state-wide health insurance plan, which would affect city employes in all large cities and most small ones.

Dier

Meeting in convention in Lincoln, the members of the League re-elected all officers to serve another one-year term.

Edward L. Dier of Hastings was re-elected president. Dier is Hastings city clerk. Other officers re-named were Leonard Glantz of Central City, first vice president; Orval M. Harms of Holdrege, second vice president; A. G. Wurst of Lincoln, executive secretary-treasurer; Kenneth D. Lee of Alliance and A. G. Kleman of Beatrice, directors, and Lloyd E. Chapman of Lincoln, general counsel.

Action Delayed.

According to Dier, the executive committee of the League "probably won't take any definite action on the health insurance proposal" until its next business meeting sometime in October.

The insurance plan, if approved by the committee, would be carried with a Minnesota firm, and be listed in the name of the League of Nebraska Municipalities. Individual cities would then be billed for their insurance, Dier noted.

No opposition to the plan has been expressed, according to Dier, who said that each city participating, would decide upon the size of the plan for their city.

If passed, all larger cities are expected to participate, Dier continued. He noted that Omaha is large enough to enter into a separate insurance plan of its own.

Allowed By New Law.

Passage of such an insurance plan for city employes is made possible by a law recently passed by the Nebraska Legislature, allowing cities to participate in the cost of employe insurance plans.

In other closing-day action, the delegates voted to hold their 1960 convention in Grand Island.

Last on the agenda for delegates was the annual convention banquet, held Thursday evening in the ballroom of the Lincoln Hotel. Dier presided at the banquet, which included introduction of the executive committee and past presidents attending the banquet.

Maj. Braxton New Service Director At Base Hospital

Maj. Robert C. Braxton has assumed duties as director of administrative services at the Lincoln Air Force Base Hospital. He succeeds Maj. Carl W. Fredrickson, who is now hospital registrar at March Air Force Base, California.

Maj. Braxton

A native of North Carolina, Maj. Braxton served at Mather Air Force Base in Sacramento, Calif., before coming to Lincoln.

During World War II he served in the Pacific area from Hawaii to Japan. After the Korean conflict he was stationed in Japan before going to Moody Air Force Base, Georgia.

Tolerant Crackdown

Paris (AP)—The de Gaulle government has put up a bill to wipe out home-brewing and bootlegging. The Cabinet measure offered to Parliament would continue a policy of toleration for old-timers in the tax-dodging business but would rule out new generations of moonshiners.

State Hopes For New Lab Site

Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, had hopes Thursday a government inspection team's report on state laboratories in the Capitol would add weight to his case for a new laboratory location.

The state labs, on the first floor of the Capitol building, were inspected for two days by a group of laboratory experts under the auspices of the U.S. Public Health Service.

The inspection was made at the request of the State Board of Health. A report will probably be ready in about a month, Dr. Rogers said.

The laboratories are now overcrowded, and often give off odors offensive to other Capitol employes, Dr. Rogers said. Further, no animal colony for virus studies can be maintained in the Capitol.

Authority to move the labs would have to come from the Legislature, mainly in the form of an appropriation, but also with special permission if the new location is to be outside Lincoln.

State law requires the health department to maintain one lab at Lincoln and another at Scottsbluff.

Wedding in December

MISS SANDRA KAY BOYD

Town and campus circles will be particularly interested in this morning's betrothal news.

For this morning Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Boyd of Birmingham, Mich., announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Kay, to Robert Michael Ireland, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Ireland.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Dec. 26.

Miss Boyd is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority of which she served as president.

Mr. Ireland also was graduated from the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Under The Raindrops—News—

—There always is something new under a raindrop—and this time it is a new committee established by the board of the Nebraska Art Association at its meeting on Thursday morning. Mrs. Howard Wilson, the Art Association's president for 1959-60 presided at the meeting, and welcomed two new board members—Mrs. Carl Olson and Mrs. E. Stewart Maness.

But about the new committee — Its chairman is Mrs. John H. Ames, and its function will be to investigate, formulate and recommend expanded activities for the association membership commensurate to the growth of the city, and the availability, use and enjoyment of the soon-to-be realized Sheldon Art Museum.

It was announced that the Saturday morning art classes for children will be resumed under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Garlinghouse, and of vital importance regarding the activity is the fact that the Cooper Foundation will again pick up the expense tab.

Chairmen of the various Association committees were named as follows:

Exhibition, Mrs. Everett Angle; Budget, Mrs. Albert Speier; Membership, Mrs. E. Stewart Manes;; Social Events, Mrs. Lyle Holland, and Acquisitions committee, Mrs. Walter W. White.

* * *

—Have some guests to mention this morning, and among them is Lt. Sidney Anderson who is attached to MATS at Travis Air Force Base. Lt. Anderson is spending his leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Anderson and since his arrival he has been honored at numerous informal affairs.

* * *

—And on the week end guest list will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bunker of Colorado Springs who will come on Saturday and will be overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. White

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. White will entertain a very small group of guests at dinner at the Lincoln Country Club complimenting the visitors.

* * *

—Sunday will be homecoming day for Dr. Michael Eyen and his mother, Mrs. Michael Eyen, who will be returning home from New York City where Dr. Eyen attended a national dental meeting, and where Mrs. Eyen visited a former Lincoln resident, Miss Sadie Ferris.

En route home the travelers will visit briefly in Baltimore where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Morris, also former Lincoln residents.

—A belated greeting this morning to Brett Miot Hale who arrived on Friday, Sept. 11, at Lincoln General Hospital. Young Brett's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hale, and his mother is the former Mary Miot Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miot Cox. Mr. and Mrs. Merle M. Hale are the paternal grandparents.

IN SERVICE CIRCLES

BY SYBIL WEBBER

News of social activities no longer wears the lighthearted guise of summertime — and, whether or not we are factual about our sense of pleasure in approaching fall, still the thought of the youngsters back in school and an exhilarated social calendar always has its rewards.

. . . this evening will find Col. and Mrs. Thomas Corbin entertaining unit commanders of the Combat Support Group and their wives with a canape party at their quarters atop the hill overlooking Lincoln Air Force Base.

The affair will particularly honor the new base commander, Colonel William H. Working, and Mrs. Working and will welcome into the group, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Joe V. Disana. Col. Disana, former commander of the 343rd Bomb Sqdn., was recently selected vice commander to Colonel Working.

. . . Colonel and Mrs. Elkins Read, Jr., were dinner hosts recently when they entertained at their air base suburbia quarters for Col. and Mrs. John R. Grunwell, Jr., Col. and Mrs. James O. Britt, Col. and Mrs. John F. Twilley and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Raleigh D. Smith.

A little earlier in the month, Sept. 9, to be exact, Mrs. Read hostessed a birthday dinner for Col. Read, to which fourteen guests were asked.

. . . last Saturday evening, Capt. and Mrs. Norman Zester entertained at their quarters on Michael, with a canape party. Their guest list included Lt. Col. and Mrs. Lyle Cochran, Maj. and Mrs. Paul Dortch, Maj. and Mrs. Don Shilling and Capt. and Mrs. Joe Abshire.

Later the group attended a no-host affair at the officers club where the 307th Maintenance officers and their wives had gathered to meet Col. and Mrs. John Twilley. Col. Twilley is the new Deputy for Maintenance for the 307th Bomb Wing.

. . . Mrs. Gerald Post was the surprised guest of honor at a coffee and stork shower last week. The morning affair was given by Mrs. Kenneth Gallagher and Mrs. W. J. Palmer. The scene of the surprise was at Bonnie Palmers quarters and ten guests played their parts to the hilt!

. . . next week will find Major and Mrs. Harry Willis heading for a short leave in Macon, Georgia, prior to an Oct. 7 flight from McGuire AFB, N.J., to London, England on a PCS transfer. They will be accompanied by sons Jock, age 10 and Stanley, 8 and daughters Michele, age 6 and Janet, age 3.

Naturally their forthcoming departure has been the incentive for numerous farewell courtesies, the first of which was hosted last weekend by Maj. and Mrs. Eugene Frye. It was a back yard picnic supper (that was before the cold snap set in) and they were joined by the Jack Berry family and the Jerry Custers.

On Wednesday afternoon Becky's bridge club honored her with a luncheon and bridge at the Hillcrest Country Club. She was presented with a farewell remembrance from the group.

And, yesterday afternoon Becky was complimented at a tea at the officers club to which twenty of her friends were asked. Even the weather assisted in carrying out an autumn decor for the occasion.

. . . the welcome mat was dusted off this week for M/Sgt and Mrs. Dean C. Hancher. While not new to Lincoln, the Hanchers are new residents of our air base suburbia.

A Visiting Fivesome

Spending several days in Nebraska have been Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark and their children Donald, Theresa and the young David of Sacramento, Calif., who have been dividing their time between York, where Mrs. Clark and the children visited Mrs. Clark's family, and Lincoln where they now are guests at the home of Mr. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clark.

Chatter in the Corridor

PAM

Hi there! I'm Pam Haynie, your "Chatter in the Corridor" representative from Lincoln Southeast.

Lincoln Southeast started its football season with a 13-0 victory over Northeast last Friday night. A pep rally was held the afternoon before the game in the LSE gym.

And entertaining 25 girls before the Southeast vs Northeast game was Francie Hazen. The guest of honor was Neamat Attarwalla, our foreign exchange student from Pakistan, who is spending the year with Francie and Sidna Hazen.

Silvio Borner, from Switzerland, is our other exchange student. While attending Southeast this year, he is staying with Jim McGinnis.

Lincoln Southeast is happy to have as our new principal, Craig Whitney, who comes from Storm Lake Ia., where he served as principal. His two daughters, Susan and Connie, attend Southeast.

New officers of the pep club, who were elected last spring are Barb Edwards, president; Cindy Towne, vice-president; Charlette Suder, secretary; C. Leigh Purvis, treasurer; and Judy Leeke, sergeant-at-arms.

Also elected last spring were new officers of the Student Council. They are Corky Dillingham, president; Jim McGinnis, vice-president, Lee Shurtleff, secretary; and Judy Erickson, treasurer.

Tonight Lincoln Southeast plays Omaha Westside at Westside. We're hoping for our second victory of the season and I hope to see many of you there.

Dear Abby--

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband isn't what you'd call "handsome". He is middle-aged. He is a bus driver and, Abby, I don't think you know how crazy over bus drivers some women are.

Just because bus drivers wear uniforms women fall all over them like they were soldiers or something. My husband says half the women on his run are mental cases. They have tried to tip him, hand him little bits of paper with their telephone numbers on them, and one woman even pinched him.

I am plain looking, Abby. Should I beg my husband to take another job or should I let him stay on that bus with all those crazy women?

BUS DRIVER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Men who meet the public (in uniform or out) will be tipped, tempted and pinched occasionally. Give him lots of love and trust him. When a man is happy at home, he doesn't know Brigitte Bardot from Ma Kettle.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am 50, but nobody takes me for a day over 40. After 24 years of marriage, my husband decided he wanted to change wives. So I didn't stand in his way. It was hard to take with two children, but I lived through it. Babies love me and there never was a dog who wouldn't lick my hand. Old men adore me. Any man over 70 can get interested in me in a minute, but I can't seem to attract a man near my own age. I have money in the bank, nice clothes, a good steady income and my children are married. In plain words, Abby, I want a man.

YOUNG YET

DEAR YOUNG: The only trouble with a woman who "wants a man" is that everybody knows it. Especially the men. If you live North—go South. If you live East—go West. Change your base of operation and broaden your contacts and you might change your luck.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Why should a wife stand there like an idiot and let a big bully of a husband hit her? I am 5 ft. tall, weigh 100 pounds and my husband is six feet two and weighs over 200. My husband hit me once, and I taught him a lesson. I knocked the wind out of him with my left and finished him off with a quick uppercut to the jaw. The bigger they are the harder they fall.

"TIGER"

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TRYING HARD": You married a man who is emotionally in knee-pants. But he is your husband. Lead him—do not push him.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

ASK—

Dorothy Draper

Use plenty of color and stay healthy! Modern doctors and psychiatrists are convinced that clear colors have a vital effect on our mental happiness.

Mrs. F. L. C. asks:

"My kitchen is painted yellow with new yellow formica counter tops. We're buying a new stove and refrigerator. Should these be yellow too?"

Dear Mrs. F. L. C.:

An all-yellow kitchen sounds light and sunshiny, but remember you have to live with a stove and refrigerator long after your present paint job has been covered many times. Of course, if you wearied of the yellow paint and felt you couldn't stand it another minute, there are many color combinations other than yellow which could be used with the yellow kitchen, a moss green kitchen or a pussy-willow-gray kitchen, or even a papered kitchen in plaids or prints with yellow predominating. My advice is, better take a little more time and go look over the line of colors once again before you decide.

Mrs. D. M. asks:

"With beige walls, a mixture of beige and black wall-to-wall carpeting, one black and beige striped chair, sofa in beige and white tweed with orange throw pillows and occasional chairs with orange covered seats, what should I use for draperies for an eight foot picture window and two side windows?"

Dear Mrs. D.M.:

Your room sounds delightful. If you want to be daring I would use a great splash of orange at all windows, picking up the color of the pillows and chair seats. If you feel this would be too overpowering (I don't think it would, but then I don't know how brave you are) you might try a safe and sane patterned mixture of the beige, white and orange, or beige, white and black. I think the latter would have a little more verve to it. Why not get a sample of all three, so that you can visualize it. Speaking of samples, it's a good idea to buy a whole yard of the fabric so that you can pin it up and really see how it will look. This may seem expensive but when you have to buy enough fabric for an eight foot window and two side windows it might mean a saving in the end. And don't let your friends intimidate you. Have the courage of your convictions.

Dorothy Draper cannot answer all letters personally. She will use the most interesting inquiries in her column. Send your questions care of this newspaper.

KITCHEN PIN-UP

If spice cake ranks high with your family, they'll be excited about these Peanut-Topped Dessert Squares. The spicy flavor is tops, and the crunchy peanuts are an added bonus.

Molasses, cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon team up to give remarkable goodness. Sprinkle chopped peanuts over the batter before baking—no frosting is needed. Both youngsters and grown-ups will claim these as a favorite.

PEANUT-TOPPED DESSERT SQUARES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar
2 eggs
¼ cup molasses
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup chopped peanuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat eggs and add molasses, mixing thoroughly. Add to creamed mixture. Combine milk and vanilla extract. Add flour and milk alternately to creamed mixture. Mix to a smooth batter. Turn into greased 7x11-inch baking pan. Sprinkle peanuts over batter. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Cut into squares. Makes about 1 dozen squares.

SUBURBIA

SOUTH HILLS

Greeting new residents of South Hills provided the occasion for a neighborhood coffee held Thursday morning, Sept. 10, at the home of Mrs. Earl Siepker. Mrs. Robert Duden, Mrs. Charles Lemon, Mrs. William Melstrom, and Mrs. Dean Robare were present to meet Mrs. Russell Fish and Mrs. Charles Neal. Mrs. Fish and Mrs. Neal are South Hills next-door-neighbors.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Heard that a recent visitor at the Don Biehn residence was Mrs. W. B. Connell of Chicago. Mrs. Connell's visit to her daughter's home was to become acquainted with her new grandson, Jonathan, two months old, and his two brothers, Steven, five years old, and Michael, three years old. Mrs. Connell returned home Sunday.

Then on Monday evening Mrs. Biehn entertained her bridge club at her home. The members are neighbors of Mrs. Biehn.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Coming from Mitchell this weekend will be Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moranvill. The Moranvills will be the house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Garber. The foursome plans to be in the stands when Nebraska meets Texas in the football opener Saturday.

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

Understand that 16 guests gathered at the E. L. Felton home, Saturday, Sept. 12, to help Kathy Felton celebrate her 10th birthday. The afternoon's festivities, including indoor and outdoor games, were planned by Kathy. Following the games, Kathy and her guests were treated to refreshments served by Mrs. Felton.

PIUS EDGES RAMBLERS 27-26

Conway Sparks Rally

Holy Name Fails On Point Try

Lincoln Star Special

Omaha — Lincoln Pius X survived a furious last-quarter rally by Omaha Holy Name here Thursday night to come up with a 27-26 victory at the Omaha Benson field.

Pius' grinding offense had amassed a 27-13 lead midway through the final 12 minutes before the underdog Ramblers retaliated with the electrifying runs of Mike Conway.

An unsuccessful quarterback sneak for the final Holy Name extra point kept the Ramblers from a tie in the late minutes.

Dick Rademacher, John Bohaty and Tom Neal spearheaded an offense which kept Pius on top all the way.

Embarking from their own 10-yard line late in the first period, the Thunderbolts paraded 90 yards to break a scoreless deadlock, Rademacher plunging across from 3 yards out.

The classy halfback added the extra point with an end run to hand the Lincolnites a 7-0 margin at intermission.

Bohaty's 55-yard run off a reverse play urged the Pi ; lead to 14-0 midway through the 3rd period before Conway swung into action for the hosts.

The latter put Holy Name back into the contest when he ran the kickoff back 85 yards for 6 points.

Heading into the final stanza, Pius covered a Holy Name fumble on the Rambler 22 and drove across for another touchdown with Rademacher covering the last 12 yards.

Another exchange of downs, and the Ramblers' Conway fielded a Pius punt at his own 10 and scooted 90 yards and haul his team close at 20-12.

Not to be outdone, Pius scrambled back from 40 yards out, Rademacher scoring his 3rd TD with a 4-yard plunge into the end zone.

Bohaty's plunge made the score 27-13 with half the period gone.

Then Conway, a dazzling runner, with stop-and-go ability, picked up the kickoff at the Holy Name 22 and went all the way again. With the conversion the score stood at 27-20.

A Pius fumble on the Thunderbolt 40 with time running out gave the hosts their crack at a tie. Conway carried the mail again after a 15-yard pass play moved the Ramblers into scoring position.

In the crucial play, sophomore quarterback Steve Balkoetc's try up the middle was shy of the mark.

Rademacher, Bohaty and Neal stood out offensively for Pius, which outdowned the Omahans 11-6 and picked up 316 yards rushing.

Jim Gordon, Perry Demma and John Lahiff shone defensively.

GAMES TONIGHT

O. Central ... at Lincoln High (Oval, 7:30)
Northeast ... at Fremont
Southeast ... at O. Westside

By Al Beebe

Lincoln High, which failed its Inter-City League debut against the defending co-champion last week, tries for its first loop victory against perennial power Omaha Central tonight in the only prep game this weekend at home for Lincoln fans.

Northeast journeys to Fremont while Southeast is at Omaha Westside. Both should be rugged contests.

All 3 Lincoln public school coaches have had their injury worries this week. Jim Sommers at LHS had fullback Bobby Williams and end Jim Dermyer hobbling with sprained ankles, but both are expected to be okay by game time. They may not be at full speed, however.

Williams' speed may be necessary against Central, which again has speed to burn. Roger Sayers, Central's ace sprinter and halfback of a year ago, is not playing this year.

But younger Sayers, Gayle, is playing at halfback. He is a 175-pound speedster, and teams well with fullback Vernon Brakefield, another member of Central Coach Frank Smagacz' state track champion team. Kenneth Allen, left-handed passer, is the Eagle quarterback.

Central opened last week losing to Omaha North, 12-7, in a game in which breaks went against the Eagles. Creighton Prep took the measure of the Links, 24-7.

Sommers said that veteran guard Darrel Stanard would captain the Links tonight.

Northeast will have to stop the passing of Nick Lamme and Marty Schlumberger and running by Schlumberger and Larry Gitt at Fremont tonight. The Tigers opened with a surprisingly easy 13-0 win over Hastings, while the Rockets were losing to Southeast by the same score.

Jim Wiest, NE's starting right end, will probably miss tonight's game as will reserve tackle Lou Cox. Les Smith, 161-pound senior, will probably replace Wiest.

NE mentor Art Bauer plans on alternating his quarterbacks, Mel Hester and Dave Lebsack, while halfbacks Ron Peet, Curt Kiner and Jim Grabowski will also rotate.

Southeast coach Tom Gillaspie expects only limited duty from 3 starters — end John Peterson, center Gary Amerman, and guard Mickey Dragoo. Jim Hermanson, a 162-pound senior, will replace Amerman while Bill Wright, 185-pound senior, replaces Peterson.

Gillaspie was undecided upon a replacement for Dragoo, but it will be Gary Foster, Jim Howard or Pat Gillespie.

Westside was bounced, 27-6, by Omaha Benson last week.

Last week's prediction tally hit 18-8—.692, fairly respectable for an opening "blind" score.

Omaha Central at Lincoln High—Links can run, too, and mistakes of last week should be ironed out. LHS to revenge losses of recent years.

Northeast at Fremont—Rockets will come close, but give slight edge to a tough team on its home field.

Southeast at Omaha Westside—This one will prove whether Knights are strong or not. Could make or break SE season, and we'll take the Knights in a squeaker.

Grand Island at Scottsbluff—Bearcats needed a gift to win last week, but won't require charity this time.

Creighton Prep vs Omaha South—The co-champs of last year meet again, and it might be just as close as last year's tie. Prep has a game under its belt, but the Packers are loaded. We'll give the nod to Prep.

Others (selection in black type):

Alliance at Gering, Nebraska City at Auburn, Beatrice at Falls City, York at Columbus, Crete at Plattsmouth, Deshler at Geneva, Hastings at Fairbury, Fullerton at Schuyler, Hebron at Sutton, North Platte at Kearney, Broken Bow at Lexington, Norfolk at Valentine, Omaha Benson at Omaha Tech, Holdrege at Ord, Wilbert at Pawnee City, Seward at Wahoo, Superior at Hasings St. Cecilia, Syracuse at Tecumseh.

It's That Time Again

There's no discounting the optimism that surrounds the University of Nebraska football camp this fall.

Fans, coaches and players are convinced—and with good reason—that the Huskers are a much better football team than they were a year ago.

Saturday afternoon against the Texas Longhorns everyone will get some idea just how much the Scarlets have improved.

In Texas, the Cornhuskers will be going against the toughest possible opening foe. Nebraska will be a definite underdog—19 points on some charts.

It's too much to expect a repeat of the 1958 opener when the Huskers upset highly-regarded Penn State. But the element of luck and determination can never be discounted.

The 1959 opener should give us a line on how well the Cornhuskers will progress this fall. From here, it looks like Texas taking a hard-fought decision.

Big Eight

TEXAS 27, NEBRASKA 15 ....Huskers improved, but not enough to bulldog the Longhorns.

IOWA STATE 33, DRAKE 7.....One of the few games Cyclones should have fun.

KANSAS STATE 20, WICHITA 14.....Shockers' experience could mean upset here.

MISSOURI 13, PENN STATE 6.....Home field, speed give Tigers slight edge.

OKLAHOMA STATE 28, CINCINNATI 12.....Cowboys use Dick Soergel to start another good season.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN 20, KANSAS 8.....Loss of Bill Crank to hurt Jayhawks in this one.

WASHINGTON 14, COLORADO 6.....Tough start for SONNY GRANDELIUS.

Giants Hit Rival 13-6

San Francisco (AP) — San Francisco chased Milwaukee's ace lefthander Warren Spahn Thursday, with Willie Mays and Eddie Bressoud pacing a 14-hit attack for a 13-6 victory, and a 2-game lead over the Braves in the hot National League pennant race.

Bressoud, Mays and Jimmy Davenport homered for the Giants. Eddie Mathews knocked in all 6 Milwaukee runs with a pair of round-trippers and a sacrifice fly.

Righthander Jack Sanford, working 7 innings, got his 15th victory in the pressure-packed game, the last of 1959 between these two clubs. Spahn, gunning for his 20th win, ran into a quick crossfire and went to the showers after 18 pitches. He was charged with 3 runs and his 15th defeat.

—Cleveland Next?—

Leo Quits

Hollywood (AP) — Leo Durocher Thursday quit his $65,000 a year job with NBC-TV to return to baseball as a manager, possibly with the Cleveland Indians.

Durocher, reached as he was about to board a jetliner for Pittsburgh, was reluctant to discuss a report that he was going back to the game where he piloted the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants to championship years.

"Yes, it's true that I have notified NBC that I was not re-signing my contract which expires Oct. 1 but I have never told anyone that I was going back to baseball. I guess they were all right in assuming that.

"But I can't say anything because I'm in the midst of negotiation."

A reporter pressed him: "Is it baseball?"

"Yes," answered Durocher, "it's baseball."

"Is it the Cleveland Indians?" asked the reporter. A pause.

"I can't say anything about that," he answered.

A source close to Durocher at NBC told a reporter that the Indians' general manager Frank Lane had approached Durocher 6 weeks ago to get him to take over the club in the American League stretch drive with the Chicago White Sox.

"Leo told Lane then that he couldn't break his contract with NBC but that he was interested in the job," the source added.

Accenting the Indians' report was Lane's blast at Indian manager Joe Gordon that only a miracle—winning the pennant—could get Gordon the job in 1960.

The second place Indians are trailing the league-leading Chicago White Sox by 5½ games and only the most genuine of miracles could overhaul that lead at this stage of the race.

Durocher once told a reporter that the only type of deal that would lure him back to baseball would be a stock deal.

Under such a deal, a manager could hold onto the stock for a number of years and then sell it at the tax-favorable capital gains, meanwhile watching it go up in value if a pennant contender was developed.

WeatherMan Is Top Topic

. . . As NU Winds Up Preparations

By Don Bryant

Weather became the topic of conversation around the Nebraska football camp Thursday as the Cornhuskers wound up preparations for the 1959 debut against Texas Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

After two days of moisture and chilly temperatures, the big questions were: what's it going to do Saturday and what kind of weather would benefit Nebraska most against the lightning-fast Longhorns

The Weather Man—never a sure bet—indicates there might be fair weather and temps in the 70s Saturday. But the cool temps and showers are slated to hang around through Friday, so a slight hitch in plans might see a damp contest.

Husker Coach Bill Jennings Thursday discounted the weather as a vital factor—unless it rains during the game.

"I don't think a wet field will make much difference," Bill said. "There's not much advantage to be gained. However, if it rains during the game, you never know."

Thursday morning workmen covered Memorial Stadium with canvas, so most of the showers didn't hit the turf. What moisture did descend on the turf undoubtedly will help the field.

Memorial Stadium sod had been baked hard and the rain was beneficial.

Some 35,000 are expected, but since this figure is based on a substantial gate sale Saturday afternoon the total could dip considerably if it rains Saturday.

Light Drill

The Huskers managed to go outside briefly between rain showers Thursday and concluded fall camp on a light note. It was the same menu as previous workouts this week—polishing and conditioning.

Friday afternoon they'll loosen up and then head for the Congress Inn pre-game headquarters.

Joe Back

Tackle Joe Gacusana was back on the job Thursday after a bout with the flu and Jennings said he will be able to see some action Saturday.

With Gacusana back on the active list, all the 58 Huskers, with the exception of Quarterback Dean Cozine, are expected to be ready for varying degrees of action.

TEXAS BACK OUT?

An unconfirmed Associated Press bulletin late Thursday night reported that No. 1 Texas quarterback Bobby Lackey was sick and would probably miss the trip to Lincoln Saturday.

1959 Huskers (44)

Pat Clare

Pat Clare of Sioux City, Ia., is one of the reasons the Nebraska coaching staff feels the Huskers will have an improved offense.

Clare

The sophomore left halfback was a standout performer on the undefeated 1958 Freshman team which is supplying several top-drawer candidates for the Varsity.

Pat performed well in the spring drills and was pressing veteran Pat Fischer for the No. 1 spot this fall before an injury hampered him. However, he's expected to be back in top form shortly, and should become one of the squad's offensive leaders.

Clare was an All Stater in high school (SC East) and he possesses speed and quickness the Huskers have needed. He's a nephew of Leland Clare, a former NU wrestle letterman.

The 19-year-old soph stands 6-0 and weighs 185.

By Paul LeBar

Precursory glances at the Kansas Wesleyan football roster indicate the squad's northern cousin Nebraska Wesleyan may have its best chance at an upset in the current series when the two collide at Salina, Kan. Saturday night.

The Kansans are young and they're light.

'They'll Be Fast'

Coach Kieth Skogman of the Nebraska Plainsmen, however, is guarding against optimism.

"They'll be pretty fast," he warns when recalling the 5 straight reversals his squads have absorbed against the Sunflower Staters.

"They did some juggling," he cautioned while scanning his opponents' roster. The Kansans list only 6 returning lettermen.

Gone from the squad are two starting tackles. In addition, Coach Gene Bissell indicates he'll call on freshman scatbacks to man the halfback posts.

High In Morale

Plainsman Coach Skogman, who has 24 back from a squad that took a 20-15 defeat in the same game last fall, termed his charges high in the morale department for the season opener.

He named an all-veteran offensive lineup for the Capital City crew but indicated that 3 frosh will get the call on defense.

Three-year letterman Dean Sell, left end, and Gary Hofmann, left half, will be the team's co-captains for the game.

The NWU offensive team averages 186.6 pounds, 15 pounds per man over the Kansans. Differences in the two lines are even more pronounced, the Plainsmen averaging 195.7 to the Kansans' 175.

To Experiment Plenty

Dale Zehring, Gary O'Mara and Jim Wiberg are the Nebraskans' heavies, tipping the scales at 215, 225 and 210 respectively.

Skogman, whose team enters the Nebraska College Conference wars next week, indicated he will experiment considerably with the 22 freshmen on the squad.

His defensive outfit includes Larry Frahm (175) and Paul Martin (165) at the ends, Zehring (215) and Rod Bartels (210) at the tackles, Lynn Rexroth (180) and Gene Baldwin (205) at the guards and Bob Martin (165) at pivot.

The defensive secondary consists of Tom Cunningham (150) at quarterback, Milan Phelps (165) and Ron Phillips (158) at halfbacks and Bob Johnson (185) at fullback.

The defenders average 179.4. Frahm, Bob Martin and Cunningham are the frosh.

Zehring was elected for duty both ways when a leg injury slowed Frank Gaines from his offensive post. Fullback Bob Johnson is also nursing bruises.

Coe Leads Way Into Semi-Final

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP) — Charlie Coe, the slim, smooth shotmaker from Oklahoma City, conquered blinding fog, icy rain and two opponents Thursday on the way toward his second straight U.S. Amateur Golf Championship.

The 35-year-old oil broker went into today's semifinals along with Gene Andrews, 46, Whittier, Calif., Dudley Wysong, 20, McKinney, Tex., and Jack Nicklaus, 19, Columbus, Ohio.

Coe plays Wysong and Andrews meets Nicklaus in the 36-hole matches over the 7,010 yard par — 71 Broadmoor course.

Coe, 5 up after winning 4 successive holes from No. 8 through No. 11, needed all his championship poise to turn back William Hyndman, III, 2 up in the quarterfinals. Wysong defeated David Goldman, Dallas, 3 and 1. Andrews downed Charles W. Harrison, Atlanta, 1 up. Nicklaus edged Dick Yost, Portland, Ore., 2 and 1.

Coe played near-par golf despite low-hanging clouds that shrouded the mountain banked course. Late in the day the sun broke through intermittently.

On the fog-bound morning round, Coe whipped Ted V. Gleichmann of Ventura, Calif., 4 and 3. Coe was 5 over par on that match. In the quarterfinals under clearer conditions he was two under par on the front nine and finished 3 under for 18 holes.

Sooners Snappy Before Governor

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma went through a 50-minute scrimmage Thursday with the first team looking sharp on offense.

Running against the 4th and 5th teams halfback Jimmy Carpenter scored on a 17-yard run. Fullback Prentice Gautt ran 23 yards through tackle for a touchdown, dragging two defenders the last 10 yards.

Interested spectators were Gov. J. Howard Edmondson and his legal assistant, Joe Cannon. Edmondson talked briefly with the squad.

Cowboys Ready

Stillwater, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma State went through a full dress rehearsal in preparation for Saturday's football opener with Cincinnati here.

After the work on timing and kickoff and punt returns, Coach Cliff Speegle said the Cowboys "are as ready as could be expected."

Speegle said the experienced first unit may have to put in more time than usual against the Bearcats whom he said have a decided edge in depth.

ISC Pass Defense

Ames, Iowa (AP)—The Iowa State football team took its last heavy workout in advance of the season opener against Drake at Des Moines Saturday night.

The Cyclones spent a lot of time on pass defense in anticipation that the Bulldogs will rely greatly on an aerial attack. The squad also went through all phases of kicking with kickoffs handled by Tom Watkins and Jim Stebbens and the punting by Cliff Rick and Joe Burden.

Throughout most of the drill the varsity worked against the freshmen.

Tigers Ease Up

Columbia, Mo. (AP)—The University of Missouri football squad wound up preparations for Saturday's intersectional football meeting with Penn State in Memorial Stadium here.

The Tigers, taking it easy, worked only an hour, spending much of their time reviewing punting, place kicking and kicking off.

19 KU Sophs

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—Coach Jack Mitchell announced a 35-man travel roster for Kansas' opener at Texas Christian Saturday. The list included 19 sophomores.

Three of the sophomores are slated to start against TCU. They are 220-pound tackle Dick Davis, 190-pound left half John Hadl and 210-pound right half Curtis McClinton.

The squad will leave from Kansas City by air for Fort Worth Friday morning.

K-State Drills

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas State Wildcats practiced punt returns and ran offense against a Wichita-type defense in a dummy drill.

It was a short, snappy workout in cool, rainy weather and was the last before K-State's opener with Wichita here Saturday. Coach Bus Mertes said the squad would have a holiday Friday.

Buffs Cut Short

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — Colorado's football team held a light workout that was cut short by rain in preparation for the season opener here Saturday against Washington.

The Buffaloes ran through signal drills without contact.

Buc Lefty Haddix Tips Cards Again

St. Louis (AP) — Pittsburgh's Harvey Haddix beat the Cardinals for the 5th time this season as he blanked his former teammates on 4 hits 7-0.

Haddix, who lost only once to St. Louis this season, walked only one man in addition to yielding 4 singles. Only one Cardinal advanced as far as second base against the lefty, who boosted his record to 12-11.

The 4th-place Pirates took advantage of a porous Cardinal defense that permitted 3 unearned runs. Larry Jackson, who was removed in the Pirates' 4-run 6th, suffered his 13th loss. He also has won 13.

Pittsburgh scored two runs in the first inning on singles by Dick Groat and Smoky Burgess, a hit baseman, a wild pitch and a passed ball.

Texas Rates 19 Points Over Nebraska, According To Dunkel (Last Year)

By Dick Dunkel

Texas is favored by 19 points over Nebraska Saturday.

But that is off last year's Dunkel rating, with no new ratings this year until after opening games. Texas rated 93.5 to Nebraska's 74.8 a year ago.

That is, against opposition of the same relative strength, Texas was 19 points per game stronger than NU. Any variation from that 19 points Saturday will set new starting points for this year.

There are major toss-ups on the opening slate Saturday, such as Clemson-North Carolina, Penn State-Missouri, Georgia-Alabama, Kentucky-Georgia Tech, West Virginia-Maryland, Oregon-Stanford, and Washington-Colorado.

Even veteran Louisiana State, a strong favorite to repeat as national No. 1, should have no bowl of crispies in Rice.

'Doctor X' Will Debut Next Week

Professional wrestling's new man of mystery — "Doctor X" — will make his Lincoln debut Tuesday night at Pershing Auditorium.

Promoter Jack Pesek, who will be celebrating his birthday the same night, said Thursday, "I don't know who the guy is, but he's a tough cookie.

"Doctor X is in great demand and we are lucky to get him in Lincoln."

The hooded "X" will tangle with the German meanie, Otto Von Krupp, a fellow who's cut from the same cloth as arch villain Hans Schmidt.

"It should be a tremendous match," Pesek said.

Schmidt will grace the all-star backup cast. Herr Hans will match holds with Omaha Ernie Dusek in the preliminary feature.

Thor Hagan and Don McClarity will scrap in another match. Pesek said he's still lining up the rest of the card.

More than 5,000 mat fans turned out for the last Pershing pro wrestle show. Tuesday's card will start at 8:30 p.m.

Ashburn Runs Hit Total To 2,211 In Phillie Win

Chicago (AP)—Playing before 598 chilled fans, one of the smallest Wrigley Field crowds in memory, the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday defeated the Chicago Cubs, 5-2, behind the 6 hit pitching of Robin Roberts.

It was Roberts' 4th triumph in a row balancing his 1959 record at 15-15.

Two of the hits off Roberts were homers, Irv Noren's 4th and Ernie Banks' 42nd which gave the Chicago shortstop his No. 137 run batted in.

Richie Ashburn, the Phillies' 32 year old center fielder, clubbed 3 singles in his first 3 times at bat to tie a 58 year old club record of 2,211 hits. The old mark was set by Ed Delahanty in 1901.

ASHBURN . . . Singles

The 3 hits gave Ashburn a total of 144 hits in 146 games this season. After he walked in the 6th, manager Eddie Sawyer withdrew Richie from the game and reportedly won't play him again until the Phillies return home Saturday night to play Milwaukee. This will provide him a chance to break Delahanty's mark before Philadelphia fans.

Roberts got the first of 6 singles the Phillies blasted to score 3 runs in the 3rd and saddle Glen Hobbie with his 13th loss. He has won 15.

Throng Turns Up At LA Park Site

Los Angeles (AP)—The long fight over Chavez Ravine as the site of the Los Angeles Dodgers' ball park passed another mark Thursday when ground was broken for the proposed $12,000,000 plant.

The public had been invited to attend the formal ceremony, but Dodger officials privately wondered whether many people would show.

They need not have worried. Upward of 5,000 turned out, and the roads in and out of the isolated, brush-covered hill country within a few minutes of downtown Los Angeles were clogged by traffic.

Light Heavy In Big Test At Baltimore

Baltimore (AP) — Picture puncher Tony Anthony will be battling two opponents when he steps into the ring here tonight. A Pennsylvania slugger named Alonzo Johnson, and his own sagging prestige.

Anthony, a light heavyweight who has been moving with the heavies such as Johnson to test himself, was considered a year or so ago to be the best big prospect to come along for some time.

Johnson has won 16 of his 19 pro fights.

After ringing up 7 straight wins last year, Anthony early this year lost to Reuben Vargas in a close one, then whipped Sonny Ray. Then he lost to Jesse Bowdry but came back to knock out Bob Young in the 8th round in his last fight.

Democrats 'Have Gained The Edge' For Presidency In 1960—Butler Says

Washington (UPI) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said he and many party leaders feel Congress this year made a "good start" on a legislative record that should give the Democrats an edge for the presidency in 1960.

But he emphasized that "meaningful, effective" legislation must be enacted on civil rights, education and several other issues in the second session of the 86th Congress to secure the advantage.

Butler, obviously flushed by the backing he received from the Democratic National Committee on two rule showdowns discounted the threat of a Southern "split" in his party.

He told a news conference that renewal of the 1956 "good faith" convention rule, on which Southerners did not even rise to debate, indicated the South's "willingness" to accept that proviso and to hold state organizations to it. He indicated he believed that not even a 1960 Senate filibuster on civil rights would wreck that outlook.

Talks To Press

Butler talked to reporters as Democratic state chairmen and vice-chairmen opened 3 days of closed conferences on 1960 organization problems. The state sessions were a follow-up to the national committee's surprisingly harmonious session.

At a later dinner meeting with the chairmen, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), one of the party's potential candidates, hailed Butler as a man who "is doing his best to keep the Democratic party on the only rational and logical road there is to victory."

Humphrey, whose views frequently put him at odds with Southerners, called on the party to present the voters next year "not only a strong liberal platform, but a strong liberal candidate to head our ticket." He said the Democrat "should win" in 1960.

Noble May Voluntarily Return To Nebraska

Lincoln Star Special

Milwaukee, Wis. — In an unexpected development Harlan Lynn Noble indicated Thursday he may agree to return voluntarily to Nebraska to face kidnap and rape charges.

Noble and a court-appointed attorney appeared before District Judge Robert Hansen Thursday and said they would discuss the extradition proceedings pending against Noble and would tell the court Friday whether Noble will continue to resist being returned to Nebraska.

A reliable source said Noble has indicated he now wants to waive extradition. The decision reportedly was reached after Noble talked with a minister.

Appointed Attorney

Noble was represented in court by Atty. Bernard Freudenfeld, who was appointed by Judge Hansen to represent Noble, according to United Press International.

If Noble does decide to return to Lincoln voluntarily he probably would be turned over to Lincoln Police Lt. Robert Sawdon and Dep. Sheriff Del Zieman immediately after the Friday court hearing and they would then begin the return drive to Lincoln.

They probably would arrive in Lincoln Saturday.

Judge Hansen told Noble Thursday that if he (Noble) does not decide to fight extradition by seeking a writ of habeas corpus by next Tuesday that he would be turned over to the Nebraska officers on the basis of papers signed Tuesday by Wis. Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Noble is charged with the Aug. 1 kidnap-rape of Theresa Dowding of Lincoln. He has reportedly denied committing the offenses.

Lifetime Of Service Urged By King Gus

. . . 74-Year-Old Honored At Humboldt Fair

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Humboldt, Neb.—A newly throned king here who won his title through a lifetime of service says that's the only way to live.

"Older people never regret what they have done for others," said 74-year-old Gus Herr.

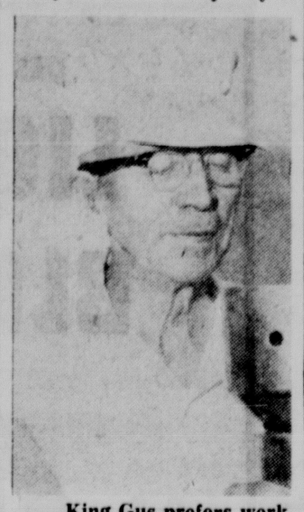
The veteran Humboldt dairyman is supposed to be reigning over activities at the Richardson County Free Fair after being crowned at its start but he says "it's always too busy during fair time" for many extra activities.

"Besides, my work cap fits a lot better than that crown," he joked.

Sondra Witler Queen

Asked what suggestions he might offer the fair's 17-year-old queen to insure her a happy life, King Gus said "it looks like she needs no advice."

He said Queen Sondra Jean Witler already has found the answer—service to others. Herr noted that she has been busy in school activities and was especially pleased that she has started teaching a Sunday School class.



. . . King Gus prefers work cap.

"I have always tried to put church work in front of everything else," the dairyman said.

The Chamber of Commerce selected Herr for the honor in recognition of his wide church and civic activities. He has been a member of the local Methodist Church 62 years, a Sunday school teacher over 50 years and is a member of the church board.

He is a 10-year veteran of the City Council, is on the cemetery board and was the first Richardson County Farm Bureau president. He retired from management of his dairy business 6 years ago, but still helps his two sons frequently in its operation.

Miss Witler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wirsell Witler and was elected by popular vote. She is a senior in the Dawson-Verdon Consolidated High School and has been active in many school, church and 4-H activities.

The 3-day fair ends Friday, with a parade scheduled in the morning and a concert by the SAC band at 1 p.m.

Omaha (AP) — The mayor's obscene literature study committee is studying the the Lincoln obscene literature ordinance in search of a remedy for a similar Omaha ordinance.

Banker Proves Self Good Shot

Broken Bow, Neb. (AP) — Thomas T. Varney Jr., president of the Broken Bow State Bank, is a fine shot, and he proved it.

Varney was guarding the bank when B. V. Holmes, Bob Hickinson, Charles Huff and Bill Pokorney staged a mock holdup as a Hey Day Celebration feature.

Nebraska News

As the 4 retreated after the holdup Varney fired after them.

He thought he had .22 calibre blank bullets. But bird shot scorched the "bandits" where they sit.

The high school athletic department had given Varney the wrong shells.

C. D. Green Dies; Once Legislator

Sidney, Neb. (AP) — Charles D. Green, 78, pioneer in western Nebraska irrigation and a former state senator, died Thursday at his Sidney home.

Effectiveness Of TB Testing Is Emphasized

Grand Island, Neb. (AP) — An astonishing medical survey supporting the effectiveness of Nebraska's tuberculosis testing program was disclosed at a district meeting here.

The Grand Island meeting involved 50 representatives of the State Tuberculosis Assn., representing 16 counties.

Dr. William Nutzman, medical director of the Nebraska State Hospital for the Tubercular at Kearney, said this astonishing survey began after the death of a small girl.

Eleven days after the girl's death Dr. Nutzman examined her father, then studied 127 contacts including friends and relatives. He linked this one individual to 8 active tuberculosis cases, 8 active tuberculosis cases and 35 other infected cases. It led to the hospitalization of 5 and the home treatment of 24 for varying degrees of tuberculosis.

Everyone is now home and leading a normal life once more.

Dr. Nutzman said he has begun a similar survey on a 21-year-old woman recently admitted to the hospital and has already found positive tuberculosis indications in 10 children with whom the woman came in contact.

Dr. Nutzman said that contrary to rumor the tuberculosis mobile unit, which makes chest x-rays, is effective. He said the unit is beneficial in uncovering other diseases such as cancer and heart trouble.

The Grand Island meeting was the first in a series of 8. Others were scheduled at Holdrege, North Platte, Sidney, Valentine, Norfolk, Fremont and Lincoln.

VFW Aims For Liberal Pension Bill

. . . For WW I Vets

By Betty Person

The Veterans of Foreign Wars is going to work toward passage in the next session of Congress of a "separate, more liberal pension bill for World War I veterans," State VFW Adjutant Robert Lowe said Thursday.

"There may be some beneficial results for a few veterans in the new pension bill, but it actually is going to be harmful to others and will work a particular hardship on World War I veterans," Lowe said.

Effective July 1, 1960, future pension benefits will be on a sliding scale based on the veteran's income.

Persons now on pension, or who will become eligible for pension by July of next year, will continue to receive benefits on the present rate, but those going on pension after that will receive benefits according to income.

Resolution Passed

Lowe noted that the VFW at its recent national convention passed a resolution "mandating our organization to work for passage of a separate, more liberal bill for World War I veterans."

The Nebraska VFW "certainly will lend vigorous support to this resolution," Lowe said.

"We feel the new bill tends to reward indigence and penalize ambition," Lowe declared, adding that it is the FVW's opinion that "relatively few Nebraska veterans will benefit by its provisions."

Lowe said the VFW would "work hard between now and next July to inform Nebraska veterans of the bill's contents and effects upon them."

Operators Finding Bingo Has Payoff Ceiling

Bingo operators in Nebraska are learning there's a ceiling as well as a floor on payoffs to winners.

The law needs correction, state Veterans of Foreign Wars Adjutant Robert Lowe, whose organization spearheaded the bingo legalizing effort, said Thursday. He's confident the next Legislature will make the revision, he said.

Lowe said the language of the law, preventing a sponsor from enlarging payoff prizes even if he wants to, apparently got by without notice in the rush of enacting the bill into law.

Interpretation

Here's how the state is interpreting the payoff section of the bingo law, according to Gould Flagg, bingo and licensing enforcement official in the state Agriculture Department:

From gross take, 10% is deducted for taxes. Of the remaining 90%, one-half (or 45% of gross) is returned to the player, figured to the next lower even dollar.

Gould said the interpretation was adopted on the advice of the attorney general.

Some sponsors have been making a 50% payoff on the gross before taxes are deducted due to mis-interpretation of the law, Gould said. Inspectors have been advising such offenders merely to "change their ways," he said.

Two Complaints

Lowe said there are two major complaints on the payoff section as written and interpreted:

1. Some sponsors would like to return to the player more than the 45% of gross allowed.

2. The law says the payoff shall be calculated on each game rather than on each session.

Calculating payoffs on each game has resulted in a "bookkeeping headache," Lowe said.

After each game, sponsors must figure up the gross, calculate the payoff and make sure it's neither smaller nor larger than the law prescribes. Sponsors even are having to obtain the name and address of each game winner for the full report required on grosses and payoffs, Lowe said.

Should Change Law

The VFW official said the law should be changed to make the payoff "not less than" 50%, removing the ceiling, and should be revised so that the payoff percentage can be calculated on the evening's gross, rather than the gross for each game.

The bingo bill originally passed by the Legislature but vetoed by Gov. Ralph Brooks would have based the payoff percentage on the entire session's gross, rather than on the take on each individual game, Lowe said. In the substitute bill which became law, the provision got changed.

Speculation Enters NPPS, Rurals Power Rate Hassle

The future of the Nebraska Public Power System's new rate controversy with its customers—27 of the states rural electric agencies—has moved into the area of speculation.

Wednesday at Columbus, representatives of the REA's listened to a rate consultant's analysis of the new rate structure adopted by NPPS for application September 1. Then, on the conclusion that the new rate formula was compounded of unrealistic factors, the group advised the REA's to reject the new rate billings October 1 and call upon NPPS for renegotiation.

Thursday at Kearney the NPPS board of managers, which includes REA representatives, left the matter untouched, indicating the next move is up to the NPPS board of directors.

Extend Objections

Meantime, it was indicated that the REA's, themselves, would extend their objections to the recently signed new rate agreements between Public Power district on the grounds that certain contractual arrangements in that area are in conflict and have influence over the rate issues and the rurals.

The future course of the controversy becomes vague at this point due to the absence of specific legal machinery to cope with rate fixing.

The Nebraska Railway Commission forms a judiciary body to adjust rate controversies where private utilities are involved. But public power agencies have no such refuge. Rate adjustments that do not yield to interagency negotiation die or seek an answer in the courts.

Court Action

One REA, at York, has already filed a district court action against the new NPPS rates.

But there was every reason to believe that NPPS will engage in further consultations with the displeased REA's. An NPPS spokesman has said his agency would welcome a review if it were made by a non-interested consultant. However, such an action is not expected unless formal notice of rejection of the new rates is received from the individual REA's.

Herter Tries To Steal Khrushchev Thunder

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and Britain Thursday tried to steal Premier Khrushchev's thunder with a challenge to join in a broad program for peace—including a new approach to disarmament.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd made their proposals in policy speeches to the U.N. General Assembly. The Soviet premier has announced he will submit a new disarmament plan when he addresses the 82-nation assembly Friday afternoon.

Herter

In his first appearance at the U.N. since becoming secretary of state Herter outlined a program aimed at bringing about constructive changes by peaceful means in disarmament, world politics and economic and social fields.

Although he did not mention Khrushchev by name, many of his statements were obviously aimed at the Soviet leader now in New York.

Lloyd came up with a new 3-stage disarmament plan that will go before the 10-nation East-West conference in Geneva next year along with Khrushchev's proposals.

The British minister called for a study by experts at conferences on particular problems, to be followed by a gradual cutback in nuclear and conventionals arms and manpower. The final stage would be comprehensive disarmament by all powers under effective international control.

Backslapping Of Statesmen Under Attack

. . . By Gov. Brooks

Hebron, Neb. (UPI) —Premier Khrushchev's remarks about the skyline of New York, the magnificence of our nation's institutions, and the pigs and corn of Iowa will have no effect on the rape of Hungary, the impoverishment of Poland, and the partition of West Berlin. Governor Brooks said Thursday night.

He made the comment during a speech at a testimonial dinner honoring Walter C. Weiss, longtime civic leader here.

"A rocket that can hit the moon can also hit Hebron, Nebraska, with equal accuracy," Brooks said. "I pray that the boys at Cape Canaveral have something under wraps."

Brooks said the salvation of the world does not depend upon back-slapping statesmen, but upon meeting the world's dire circumstances with forthright and determined action.

"I am in favor of science and mathematics scholarships per sec," the governor said. "But I am also in favor of other scholarships on an equal basis."

He said science and mathematics did not write the 3 greatest documents of human freedom, the Magna Charta. The Mayflower compact, and the Declaration of Independence.

California Hazing Stunt Proves Fatal

Los Angeles (AP)—A fraternity pledge being hazed during an initiation choked to death Thursday while trying to swallow a large piece of oil - soaked raw liver.

Swanson

Police said his life might have been saved if the fraternity members had not misled an ambulance crew. They told rescuers the boy suffered a spasm and didn't mention the meat.

The University of Southern California suspended the Kappa Sigma fraternity and told its national headquarters to remove the chapter from the campus. Members were placed on university probation pending full investigation.

Richard T. Swanson, 21, pre-dental student and son of a Los Angeles dentist, died after both an ambulance crew and firemen worked over him.

An ambulance man, Nathan Rubin, said he arrived at the Kappa Sigma house at 1:19 a.m.

Might Have Saved Him

"I asked if the boy had eaten anything," he said. "They told me no. I got practically no co-operation. If I'd only known he had eaten something, I might possibly have saved him. I was prepared for such an emergency . .. I had an extractor and could have removed what was in his throat . . . I was working in the dark and didn't have a chance. Neither did the kid."

A quarter-pound of liver—3 by 4 inches, ¾ of an inch thick — later was removed from Swanson's throat.

Police said 11 pledges were assigned numerous push-ups, then marched to a table and told to eat liver soaked in olive oil. Six did. Swanson tried 5 times and on the sixth fell gasping to the floor.

Mistreatment Ban At Uni Of Nebraska

Neither the University of Nebraska nor the Inter-Fraternity Council will "allow or condone" physical mistreatment of fraternity pledges, IFC President George Porter said Thursday.

Porter said the Council is preparing a code to better coordinate fraternity activities with study time in order to allow pledges more academic time.

All University fraternities sponsor social service projects during the year, Porter noted.

Mrs. Greenwalt was driving north on 17th and attempting a left turn while Mrs. Griswold was southbound on 17th when the mishap occurred, police said.

Schwindt, 21, was driving west on Vine when his car hit a truck owned by George J. Pfeif of 3080 Vine, police said.

3 More Towns OK Power Terms

Columbus, Neb. (AP) — The Nebraska Public Power District announced Thursday the signing of 25 year power supply contracts with 3 more Nebraska towns.

They are Cozad, Loomis and Bertrand. Minden signed a similar contract earlier.

Negotiations are still continuing with Lincoln and North Platte and the Gothenburg and McCook divisions of the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District. The new rates will raise the power costs of the communities.

Stocks Slide; Loss Severe

New York (AP) — The stock market abandoned a slight early advance Thursday and slid to a severe loss in quiet trading.

An estimated $2,200,000,000 was cut from the quoted values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in The Associated Press average.

The retreat was not quite as bad as Monday's but it made a mockery of Wednesday's feeble rally and left no doubt that the present market trend is definitely downward, at least until better support develops.

The desultory action of the market itself as it rallied from almost uninterrupted daily declines was one discouraging influence. Brokers also cited the widening effects of the steel strike and the preoccupation with tight money and high interest rates.

Some Wall Streeters said there was considerable hesitation based on the address to the United Nations Friday by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 3.41 to 629.00

Motors were active, pacing the market while it was on the upside.

Volume dwindled to 2,090,000 shares from 2,180,000 Wednesday in a further reflection of caution.

The AP 60—stock average dropped $1.70 to $218.40 with industrials down $2.40 rails down $2.00 to another low for the year and utilities down 40 cents.

Of 1,196 issues traded, 685 declined and 285 advanced. There were three new highs for the year and 121 new lows.

American Stock Exchange prices were mostly lower on volume of 860,000 shares compared with 800,000 Wednesday.

Corporate bonds declined in moderate trading.

Volume increased to $5,880,000 par value from $5,770,000 Wednesday.

Rye, Soyas Up; Others Draggy

Chicago (AP) — A moderate demand strengthened soybean and rye futures Thursday but other grains scarcely budged from previous closes on the Board of Trade.

Dealings were draggy, probably near the low volume of the year. Commercial customers were scarce and their requirements so meager that their activity in the market hardly was noticed. Transactions mainly were in small lots of short covering and liquidation toward evening up commitments in September contracts on which trading will end next Monday.

Commission houses placed most of the buying in both soybeans and rye but dealers said it appeared to be more a flurry than an indication of a strong trend.

In the four trading days this week, all new crop corn deliveries have drifted along at or near their lows for the year.

Net prices to producers are below the government support figure of $1.12 a bushel for the 1959 crop, demand is at a low ebb, a record high yield is near maturity and adequate supplies already are in commercial positions for all immediate requirements. Under those circumstances, dealers say, there is no foreseeable likelihood prices will move sufficiently to attract any considerable speculative interest.

Wheat closed ¼ cent a bushel higher to ¼ lower, September $1.90¼-⅜; corn ⅜ higher to ⅛ lower, September $1.14⅝-¾; oats ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, September new type contract 66 cents; rye ½-2 cents higher, September $1.30; soybeans ⅛-¾ higher, September $2.07-2.07¼.

Lodge Tells Nikita Voters, Not Businessmen Are America's Ruling Class

New York (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge told Nikita Khrushchev and a club of American businessmen that the American voters rather than business leaders are the ruling class in America.

Lodge is U.S. Ambassador to the U.N. and is the escort President Eisenhower picked for the Russian premier on his tour of this country.

In his capacity as a sort of one-man truth squad, Lodge spoke along with Khrushchev, at a dinner of the Economic Club of New York. He said it was a good place in which to point out that the "Robber Baron"—the phrase he said was used to describe capitalism of a century ago—is something to which this country is opposed.

While Khrushchev bragged of Russia's industrial production gains, Lodge countered with a few figures of his own on how people are faring under the American system.

More Quickly

Khrushchev said Russia now is in a position in which it can overtake U.S. industrial production more quickly than was planned.

Lodge said that if Robber Baron is the definition of capitalists, then Americans aren't capitalists at all. For example, he said, 14 million Americans own shares in U.S. industry.

Two thirds of all that is produced, he said, goes to the consumer. He went on.

Three of 4 families own their own cars. Three fifths of non-farm families own their own homes. Three of 4 farms are run by the people who own them. One of 10 families makes $10,000 a year or more—triple the proportion of 10 years ago. A coal miner gets between $25 and $28 a day. Even with adjustments for changes in the value of the dollar, family income has gone up 50% in 10 years.

Lodge said he has been told that in Russia a man can own his own home, make a will, and use a bank, and that there is no limit on what his income could become. Such things generally have been considered to be attributes of capitalism, he said.

He cited the 52% corporate income tax and an individual income tax which takes a heavy slice in the upper brackets. Such things, he said, generally are considered attributes of socialism.

So, Lodge said, capitalism and socialism are confusing words that can mean many different things in different places.

Lodge described the American system as "economic humanism rather than monopoly capitalism."

Replying directly to some of Khrushchev's remarks at a luncheon earlier in the day, Lodge challenged a statement to the effect that the premier sees no difference between the abuses of early capitalism and the present-day system.

"The difference is as great as the difference between black and white," Lodge said. "And we believe this will become crystal clear to you as you see things for yourself on your tour around the country."

Omaha's Mayor Rosenblatt May Seek Seat In Congress

By Don Walton

Omaha Mayor John Rosenblatt has told key state Democratic party officials that he may become a candidate for the Second Congressional District seat in the House of Representatives, The Star learned.

Rosenblatt, one party official said, would be more likely to enter the congressional race if Republican Rep. Glenn Cunningham decides to return to Omaha and run for mayor.

Cunningham, congressman since 1956, has said he will make a decision on his 1960 political plans within the next few weeks.

The Republican was Omaha mayor from 1948 to 1954.

Mayor Since '54

Rosenblatt, who served on the City Council from 1948 to 1954, has been mayor since 1954. He is on indefinite leave of absence from the Roberts Dairy Co.

Under the new city charter, the mayor serves a 4-year term at $17,500 annually. He is elected directly by the people on a non-partisan basis.

Rosenblatt, however, is a registered Democrat and makes an appearance at all major party functions held in Omaha.

Cunningham, 47, has told close friends that he may bid for the mayorship next year.

The two-term congressman served on the city council from 1947-48 prior to his move to the mayor's office.

Cunningham operates an insurance agency when Congress is not in session.

Finances Mentioned

Financial matters may play a large part in his final decision, Cunningham has told friends.

As congressman, he is salaried at $22,500 annually and will be in line for a pension plan if he serves a third term.

Cost-of-living factors in Omaha and the need of keeping two homes if he stays in Washington will also be considered, it is understood.

Cunningham defeated Democrat Francis Casey of Plattsmouth in the 1958 elections by a near 2-1 plurality and a margin of 31,000 votes.

Nebraska Democrats hope to take advantage of the fact that Omaha is predominantly Democratic (according to registration figures) in seeking a strong candidate for the 1960 struggle.

Mrs. Coryell

Services will be held at Roper & Sons Mortuary, with Dr. Frank Court officiating. Burial will be in the Brock, Neb., cemetery.

She was a patronness of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Her husband, Levi L. Coryell, oil and gasoline executive and apartment house owner, died in 1953. His oil business, in which he was in partnership with his son, the late Leland Coryell Jr., covered 16 midwestern states.

The Coryells also owned and operated 5 local apartment houses—the President, Ambassador, Monarch, Premier and Chancellor.

Mrs. Coryell is survived by a sister, Pearl Parker of Denver, Colo.; a brother, Glenn S. Parker of Santa Monica, Calif.; a granddaughter, Mrs. Richard Claussen of Denver; and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. L. L. Coryell Jr. of 3300 So. 27th in Lincoln.

CAPTAIN FOLGER HERE!
ANNOUNCES GREAT
COFFEE TREE GIVE-AWAY!

Captain Folger, the man who has been bringing Mountain-Grown Folger's Coffee to millions made a startling announcement as his ship docked today. Reporters and the general public (some of whom had been waiting as long as 48 hours on the pier) crowded around him for an explanation of the "important announcement" he was prevented from making earlier because of radio interference. Crowds were so thick it took 45 minutes before the Captain could fully explain his news.

Coffee lovers to benefit

The dynamic Captain finally managed to reveal what purports to be one of the most fantastic plans in history. He said: "Fellow Americans! We have the world's highest standard of living — 50 million television sets, 57 million automobiles, but does one of you, even one of you have a coffee tree?" A deafening chorus of "no's" rose from the vast crowd. Then Captain Folger went on to say that he was determined to correct this situation. When asked why, he said that America has made Mountain-Grown Folger's Coffee the largest-selling coffee in the vast area in which it is sold, and in appreciation, every true coffee lover deserves his own mountain-grown coffee tree. The Captain's announcement was met with wild enthusiasm. Everyone is now eager to hear further details about this remarkable plan, and they will be made public just as soon as they are available.
